Q: Translation of Passage

The purpose of a student's life is the acquisition of knowledge from teachers and books. Which/That can enlighten dark ways of life for them. For the fulfillment of this duty or responsibility, firmness and consistency is required. Every external effect that is against it, have to be kept separate from the circle of education. Otherwise, danger will be the incomplete training of student and the time which he had to spend on the acquisition of knowledge will be wasted on merely on the emergency interest of political activities. Our country needs such scholars, more than political workers, who know western, eastern, religious and world sciences or knowledge. It is clear that such people can only be produced when political factors donot interfere in educational activities. It is said that our education system is poor as compared to western countries, this is result of our economic condition to some extent. And it is better to say that our mostly teachers are unable to enrage educational spark in students.

But major responsibility should be on students.
