Q2 Precis

"Beggary: a societal ill"

Professional begging is growing in India, as such # damaging its image in the international world and also affecting the society. Cause of this rise in begging is the religious Indian concept of Moksha, getting Moksha by giving away, to the poor. Some beggars are hereditary beggars by their lineage. Another is the fear of abomination by beggars that encourages people to provide them. Although most of the beggars are ~~not~~ wealthier than their providers. Nevertheless Indian society is evolving in terms of with ~~the~~ respect to beggary and possible solutions are sought for this menace; of which western concept of no work no food is prominent. But given the ~~economic~~ <sup>situation</sup> unemployment and over population in India social reforms are also required: de glorifying the punya in providing for healthy beggars as such charity only creates laziness and immense poverty ultimately. Not only educating the public about the ills of begging but also keeping check on the beggary rates by the government can ~~de~~uproot this cancer. Promulgation of strict laws against begging ~~in~~ in the country wide specially holysites where beggars find safe haven for ~~this~~ ~~an~~ unholy act. ~~As~~ conclusively, for a better life this evil has to be eradicated no matter <sup>in</sup> what form it exists.
