

If women are not protected socially, can legal actions protect them

Outline

1. Introduction

Thesis Statement:

Women is the beautiful creation of the God. Her very position is compromised by the ^{male dominated} society. However, the legal system enables them to avail opportunities and make a difference in a society. But the society remains a great obstacle to pursue their optimistic goals.

2. Crunch Paragraph

3. Women needs to protect socially first (Thesis)

- a- family confidence make them feel more strong
- b- patriarchal society \downarrow Subordinates women position
- c- more leverages to male exists biasness against women

- d- Sexual harassment destroy a women personality
- e- force marriages are is a major societal concern: a case of religious minorities in Pakistan

4. Women needs to protect legally (anti thesis)

- a- legal order for the women rights strengthen their position.
- b- Law helps in undermining the gender stereotypes
- c- availability of equal opportunities by the system removes the gender gap
- d- legal action against sexual assault curbs the motivation of perpetrators.
- e- legally no one can enforce a girl to marry

5. Society has a great impact over the women

- a- The implementation of the law done when the society practice it
- b- women get touched emotionally and physio psychologically.

c- Most of the time family doesn't allow women for work d- victims often avoid to report because of societal pressure e- weak position of women never provoke her to go against the social norms.

6- Conclusion

child grown up through learning by its environment. He donot know about anything while his ^{mother} family give him a direction to follow. The first institution a child found is a mother. Similarly, a women raises by her social norms stands accordingly. A women's first interaction is always her family and the society. Women is the beautiful creation of the God, her very position is compromised by a male dominated society. However, the legal system enables them to avail opportunities and make a difference in a society. But the society remains a great obstacle to pursue her optimistic goals. A women need to be protected socially first, as the confidence which she receives by the family become her strength. The biasness of patriarchal society undermines her position to event in a life. The social events like sexual assault and force marriages destroyed her self honour. Although, some argues that legal settlements and laws for the rights of women make them more vocal.

Legal action against harassments discourage the perpetrators to assault on women. The availability of equal opportunities by the system lowers the gender gap.
Legal framework for the women rights protection erubs all the gender stereotypes.
Where the proponents of women social protection raises their concern about the implementation of the law. As women get touched emotionally or physically but still stand quiet, even ready for force marriage or any other type of discrimination.
Sometimes, for the family norms or under the social pressure.

women is a beauty of a nature. Women plays integral role in the socio-economic development of the country. Most of the time, she never get the appreciation which she actually deserved. Madeleine Albright the former United States Secretary of State once said that "The reason I made women's issues central to American foreign policy, was not because I was a feminist, but because we know that societies are more stable if women are politically and economically empowered."
So they often work behind the curtain or on the main stream. In some societies, they get victimize by their male patriarchal systems, where they needs a protection both socially and legally.

A women need to protect socially that make her more confident and feel better. The confidence by the family give her strong emotional support and helps in pursuing dreams. The effort of achieving something is not all come alone rather the success is accompanied by the family support. ~~At~~ Kamala Harris who is the vice President of the United States once talk about her family support to her is the prime example of it. In Pakistan, recently, Sarah Gureshki who become emerged as inventor of world's first Green Aircraft made her dream come true with the help of her father. This is how the family makes a women strong.

Yet the patriarchal society often subordinates the women position. Cultural norms most of the time favoured boys. The boys enjoys this freedom more than girls. A recent world bank report on the "Reasons of girl education discrimination in Pakistan" 2023, reveals that the cultural norms favouring boy's education over girls. ~~and also~~. Summing up, the patriarchal society influences the women status.

In the same way, more leverages to men evoke biasness against the women. The male dominated society tried to keep their influence in every sphere of life over the women. Male don't compromise their position to work under the women. In 2018, it was reported the Amazon developed recruitment tool for job application was found biased against women (Amazon scrapped sexist AI tool, BBC, 2018). So, the women is always get victimize by their male counterparts.

Along with that sexual harassment destroy a women personality. Sexual harassment often leads to violence against a women.

There was a gruesome incident, in Pakistan where a 20-year old woman burnt alive in the name of "honour" in Jhang, Punjab (Shazia Nizami, Unsafe Spaces, July 2023). Many women attempt suicide for that matters. Sexual harassment stand the women no where.

Adds to it, force marriages is a major concern of women, mostly happens in minorities. In Pakistan, force marriage is very common. Women from religious minority communities remain particolarly vulnerable to forced marriage & very little has been done to stop it (Shazia Rizmani, unsafe spaces, July 2023).