

Economic Or Politics : Pakistan Conundrum.

Outlines:-

1- Introduction

2- How politics organized the country.

3- Why politics is important in Pakistan than economy?

(a) Political ideology influences the economy

(b) If there is political stability then there will be economic stability

(c) Strong political system will made the strong economy policies

(d) The politicians will made relationship with other countries

(e) The political system reduces poverty in the country

(f) The political system maintains law and order in the country Pakistan.

(g) The political system brings the welfare in the state of Pakistan.

4- what are the factors that slow down the political performance in Pakistan.

(a) the most important factor is changing ideology. (from Parliamentary to Presidential)

(b) the performance of political parties disturb the political performance.

(c) the suspension and of constitution by military dictators.

(d) the suspension or abandons of programmes initiated by the previous governments.

(e) Corruption is like a cancer in the political system of Pakistan.

5- Suggestions and recommendations through which ~~the~~ ~~these~~ these challenges should be solved.

(a) Strong political ideology

(b) Hierarchy in the political parties.

(c) Adopted the political policy of specialisation

(d) strong actions against the corruption.

Politics is the essential element of the state without politics state is like a jungle. So, in comparison between economic and politics in case of Pakistan then politics is first priority because politics is the key of economic prosperity. That's why ~~politics~~ is the ~~therefore~~, there should be strong political system but there are some challenges faced by the political system of Pakistan. But there are some ~~the~~ solution through which these challenges should be ~~solved~~ solved. So, the political stability is important for Pakistan because it helps in economic development, bring law and order, made peace and friendly relations with neighbours and the most important work for the ~~development~~ welfare of the country. But at same time there are some challenges like changing the political system, ineffective performance of the politicians, involvement of institutions and most important corruption. But, these problems should be resolved by making effective policies. In a nutshell, in Pakistan, the institution of politics is the institution of politics. If this institution works properly then all the other institutions will work properly.

As, the institution of politics organized the whole country in such a manner that it makes policies for every other institutions such as and initiate programmes for economic growth, for education of the country, to provide health facilities to the human beings and much more. Therefore, political system plays a role in every institution of Pakistan directly and indirectly. So, it means that it organized the whole country by different policies.

As, it organized the whole country that's why it is very important for a country than economy. Because is an institution that governed by politicians. so if there is a stable, strong political system economic department will developed and grow.

The political ideology of Pakistan influences the economy like what type of political ideology is in Pakistan whether, it is capitalism, communism or socialism. In Pakistan there is capitalist ideology and this through this ideology the economy of country grows. Like, the economy of united states of America.
In America there is also capitalist ideology through which they became super power of the world then what not Pakistan. So political ideology shapes the economy of Pakistan.

Political ideology is not enough for shaping the economy but the stability of political system matters a lot. If there is political ideology then there will be economic and other stability in the state. As Afghanistan, when the is no political system, no government, no administration then they faced political instability in their country and also the country is poor & backward of the world but with the time they stable the political system ~~at~~ every things comes to right place. so, stability role for playing a very important economic growth.

So, if when their is strong political system will make strong policies for the betterment and for the bright future of the country. like china after the independence they made their political strong and stable then made policies for economic and today ~~it is~~ it is the ~~the~~ largest economy. so, strong political system play very important role.

when their is strong and stable political system then the government will be able to made peaceful relationship with neighbors ~~our countries~~ but bilateral Not only relationships agreements that were beneficial for the both countries. such as with United States of America that has 115 in number and bilateral relations with china that are 185 in number. So, for the progress of country relationship plays a very important role and it can only be done if their's should be strong and stable political system.

The political system is not only necessary for economic growth but it is also necessary for the essential of welfare of the state. The political system must make law and order and also makes sure to implement it. Through various policies and programs they provide jobs to citizens that helps in reducing the poverty through these step they the political system will try to bring stability and welfare in the state. So, the role of the Pakistan is in the political system of Pakistan.

But, the Pakistan is suffering from many challenges that creates hindrance in their the process of development. As there are many problems such as political instability, blame gaming, cases on the politicians involvement of other institutions.

The most important challenge is political form of government whether is parliamentary, presidential or Islamic system. Also debate on whether capitalist system suit to Pakistan or other ideologies. Historically there was changing in political system firstly, it was Parliamentary system then was presidential system and in thirdly the pure parliament system. These changings slow down the performance of political system.

Along with these debate the performances of political parties was not very satisfactory in Pakistan. They are playing very ineffective, irresponsible & intolerable role. The opposition never gives to the chance to ruling government between the two parties creates instability in Pakistan and of disturbs the whole system Pakistan.

The ineffective performance of political parties not only creates political instability but also to give way to military intervene in the political affairs of Pakistan. Such Marshal dictators laws, the military leader of Pakistan, become the leader of Pakistan, abrogate the constitution and cancel all the political power.

The involvement of military dictators also a big challenge for the political system of Pakistan.

Last but not the least the corruption of politicians is like the cancer for Pakistan.

Corruption is not a new thing but it had roots in Pakistan since the era of ~~19~~ 1983 to still now. Even today there is a lot of cases of corruption in politicians in supreme court. The case of corruption imposed the negative impact on individuals of Pakistan. The people of Pakistan are losing trust on the politicians that is a big challenge for the political system of Pakistan.

However, along all these challenges, there are suggestions and recommendations through which these problems can be reduced such as the strong political ideology. If there is only one and strong political ideology then all policies will be made on their principles. If democratic form of government then all the policies will be made on the principles of parliamentary form of government.

The ineffective role of political parties is because of the dynasty in political parties. If there is hierarchy in political parties then the experienced and intelligent leader will lead the country instead of following the dynasty. Through hierarchy the new leaders will get the chance to be the part of political system. And also along with hierarchy there should be tenure for the leaders of political parties.

Not only hierarchy but also adopted the policy of specialization. Right person in right place. Through this policy every institution, every department will work for their own institution instead of interfering in others institutions.

lastly, make measures against corrupt corruption. Pakistan legislature should make some acts pass some bills that helps in stop to corruption. like PRODA act and also learn lesson from other countries that how they stop corruption in their countries.

In a nutshell, For Pakistan the most important system is stability of political system. Its stability is not only important for economic growth of the country but also for the prosperity of the system of Pakistan. The political system is facing many problems and also trying to come out from these problems. Firstly Pakistan should adopted those policies that helps in bringing the stability in political system. If this system is stable then it will made better, long lasting policies for the better future of Pakistan.

