

Question no: 1

In India, begging has become so widespread that it has evolved into a recognized profession. This is exemplified by naming of cities like Vaisanai, which reflects such prevalent practices. While the exact figures of their existence is not known, the writer is keen to delve into the lifestyle and the social impacts their existence carry. The writer outlines social conscience embedded ^{in people} by religious faiths to be one of reason. The beggars are taxing on that faith at expense of religion and are resorting to act of beggary. Modern Indians are contemplating a solution to eradicate act of beggary. This can be done by educating people that how ~~useless~~ these practices are adding up idleness and poverty. It is high time that government must amend or launch ^{new} laws to put this practice to ^{an} end. ~~The~~ Author urge people to revitalise the balanced out look on life ^{in order} to ~~stop~~ such practice from exploitation of victim ^{resist}

Title: Beggary: A social disease.

1. According to the author, time is a luxury. Despite, this generation ^{being} highly vested in their time-saving gadgets. In future, they will appreciate time away from it. The very time saving machinery is the reason for time scarcity in their ~~top~~ lives. The children of tomorrow will be craving time away for the sake of their peace and freedom of mind.

3. The author believes that the current generation have many ways for communication but they are left with very little to say to each other. As the generation is too busy in their lives to take pleasure from it.

2. According to the author, the machinery may have made life efficient for us but it ~~have~~ has far cease to impart the knowledge of processing things in reality. The knowledge came out of it. What do we make out of it. The author believes that machinery cannot instill the emotional and moral clarity in ~~the~~ this generation.

4. People are interested in old-age facts like yoga because they lack ^{emotional} connectivity and a calm atmosphere in their hustling bustling schedule. That old-age facts helps in ~~at~~ improving attentiveness, memory and cognition - research proves that.

Question No: 5 (B).

- ii to.
- iii from.
- viii in.
- iv. at.
- v. around.

Part (A), Punctuation.

The Hodja always wanted to learn something new. And one day, he had a sudden inspiration to learn, how to play the lute. He approached a music teacher and asked him "how much do you charge for lute lessons?". "Three silver pieces for the first month, after that one silver piece, a month," "Oh, great!" exclaimed hodja. "Then I'll start with second month."

Question No: 4.

- (g) Sir Ali Shahab left for Karachi, last week.
- (f) He said that he was suffering from fever.
- (d) Sir Azhar Afzal has been reading a novel ~~for~~^{since} five days.
- e) The price of onions has been reduced.

a,

Fahem used to wear glasses when he was young, now he wears contact lenses.

b,

He desire to be a prince.

Question No. 6.

Question NO. 6.

Part (B)

Maggie asked Tom that how much money did he gave for the rabbits.

Tom replied, "Five shillings and six pence."

Maggie said that she thinks, she had gotten more than that in her box upstairs. She ~~would be~~ would ask her mother to give it back to him.

~~Tom~~ responded, "What for?"

Tom responded that he did not want he money. He ~~had~~ had gotten far more money

Maggie respond back, that she wanted to buy some more rabbits.

~~Reviewed~~ Censored (The show before)
Question 6, A,

ii Censor:

The show was censored by PEMRA, last week.

Censure:

It is an act of vandalism for which the party deserves censure.

iii Dual:

He has dual nationality.

Duel:

In old era, duels used to be fought to resolve conflicts.

v. Famous:

Mehrab was famous for his drafting skills.

Notorious:

He was a notorious gambler and cheat.

vii Sheer:

She called him, out of sheer concern.

He got him shirt shedded, etc.

Shear:-

His cat sheared his shirt, while playing.