6) Conclusion

Politics is the essential element of the state without politics state is like a jungle. So, in comparison between economic and politics in case of Pakistan then politics is first priority because ~~is the key of economic prosperity~~ that's why ~~politics is the~~ <sup>spelling</sup> ~~therefore, there should be strong political system but there are some challenges faced by the political system of Pakistan. But there are some solution through which these challenges should be solved.~~ <sup>Sentence structure</sup> ~~So, the political stability is important for Pakistan because it helps in economic development brings law and order, made peace and friendly relations with neighbours and the most important work for the development welfare of the country. But at same time there are some challenges like changing the political system, ineffective performance of the politicians, involvement of institutions and most important corruption. But, these problems should be~~ <sup>change</sup> resolved by making a <sup>Sentence structure</sup> ~~nutshell~~ in effective policies. In a ~~nutshell~~, in a conundrum of Pakistan, the institution of politics is the institution of politics. attention first. If this institution works properly then all the other institutions will work properly.

As, the institution of politics <sup>organises</sup> organised the whole country in such a manner that it makes policies for every other institutions such as ~~and~~ initiate programmes for economic growth, education of the country, health facilities to the human beings and much more.

List of institutions and sectors, no argument and analysis in the paragraph. There is only one meaningful sentence in the paragraph Therefore, political system plays a role in every institution of Pakistan ~~is~~ directly and indirectly. So, it means that it organized the whole country by different policies.

As, it organized <sup>s</sup> the whole country that's why it is <sup>more</sup> very important for a country than economy. Because it is an institution that governed by politicians. so if there is a stable, strong political system economic department will developed and grow.

The political ideology of Pakistan influences the economy like what type of political ideology is in Pakistan whether it is capitalism or socialism. In Pakistan there is capitalist ideology and this through this ideology the economy of this country grows. Like, the economy of united states of America.

Incoherent,
irrelevant to the topic and argument

In America there is also capitalist ideology through which they became super power of the world then what not Pakistan. so political ideology shapes the economy of Pakistan.

Political ideology is not enough for shapping the economy but the stability of political system matters a lot. If there is political ideology then there will be economic and other stability in the state. As Afghanistan, when the is no political system, no government, no administration then they faced political instability in their country and also the poor country & backward country of the world but with the time they stable the political system not every things comes to right place. so, stability playing a very important role for economic growth.

So, when there is strong political system will make strong policies for the betterment and for the bright future of the country. like china after the independence they made their political strong and stable then made policies for economic and today it is the largest economy. so, strong political system play very important role.

when there is strong and stable political system then the government will be able to make peaceful relationship with neighbors and countries. Not only relationships but bilateral agreements that were beneficial for at. both countries. such as the bilateral agreement of Pakistan with United States of America that has 115 in number and bilateral relations with china that are 185 in number. So, for the progress of country relationship plays a very important role and it can only will be done and it their's should be strong and stable political system.

in the political system of Pakistan.

But, the Pakistan is suffering from many challenges that creates hindrance in their development. As there are many problems such as political instability, blame gaming, cases on the politicians involvement of other institutions.

Do not enlist the points in transition paragraph

The most important challenge is whether political form of government is parliamentary, presidential or Islamic system. Also debate on whether capitalist system suit to Pakistan or other ideologies. Historically there was changing in political system firstly, it was Parliamentary system then was presidential system and in thirdly the pure parliament system. These changings slow down the performance of political system.

as opposed to what other form of government All governments are political

Presidential system and political system are one thing and Islamic system is completely separate.
Also the argument from the beginning should be about Pakistan

Why is that a challenge?

Along with these debate the performances of political parties was not very satisfactory in Pakistan. They are playing very ineffective, irresponsible & disturbs the whole system

The ineffective performance of political parties not only creates political instability but also to gives way to military to intervene in the political affairs of Pakistan. Such Marshall

What is the argument?
Where is the evidence?
How is that a challenge for Pakistan, especially in the economic sense?

The involvement of military dictators also a big challenge for the political system of Pakistan.

Last but not the least the corruption of politicians is like the cancer for Pakistan.

Corruption is not a new thing but it had roots in Pakistan since the era of ~~1983~~ 1983 to still now. Even today there is a lot of cases of corruption in politicians in supreme court. The case of corruption imposed the negative impact on individuals of Pakistan. The people of Pakistan are facing a big challenge for the political system of Pakistan.

There is no reasoning or argumentation in the paragraph. Why is corruption a political issue? How does that make politics a bigger issue in the economy?

However, along all these challenges, there are suggestions and recommendations through which these problems can be reduced such as the strong political ideology. If their political ideology is only one and strong then all policies will be made on their principles. If democratic form of government then all the policies will be made on the principles of parliamentary form of government.

The ineffective role of political parties is because of the hierarchy in political parties. In a democratic system also creates hierarchy why is that a problem? In a most not rough of syst many prob help is D bet in political parties then the experience and intelligent leader will leads the country instead of follows the dynasty. Through hierarchy the new leaders will get the chance to be the part of political system. And also along with hierarchy there should be tenure for the leaders of political parties.
