Q 5.

Answer:

Introduction

"Women is regarded as 'ghetto'."

(Zubaida Mustafa)

Women is treated unequally in Pakistan. In fact, structural and direct forms of violence against women are evidence of it. Moreover, these forms can be well-explained by theories of gender-based violence. Thus, women suffer from various forms of violence.

2. Definition of 'Structural Violence'

"Structural violence is an indirect form
of violence prevail
in culture media."

(Lucy Srigarav)

Structural violence

is indirect form and can also be known as materialism inequality against women. Structural violence makes women dependent. Thus, structural violence is cultural violence.

3. Definition of "Direct Violence"

"Direct violence is visible form that reflect in victims appearance"

(- Helene Cixous)

Direct violence is a direct form of violence. In fact, women suffer from patriarchal mindsets. Thus, direct forms seem to be dangerous.

4- Direct forms of violence against women in Pakistan

With reference to Theories of violence following are

- direct forms of violence.

a) Domestic violence and social learning theory

Domestic violence prevails that can be well explained in the light of social learning theory. Women are the most suppressed by domestic violence in Pakistan.

- About 3.2 pc of women in Pakistan face domestic violence.

(The US-based National Library of Medicine)

Thus, domestic violence leads to learning in children.

b) Personality characteristics and psychopathological theory

Misconduct, women

also suffer from personality appearance and psyche terms.
Women are often tortured mentally due to their appearance or psyche.

"About 83.6 pc of women face psychological violence due to
divorce, abduction, threat, blackmailing etc in Pakistan."

(The US-based

National Library of Medicine)

Thus, women are tortured physical appearance and psyche perspective.

c) Feminists attacks and Feminist theory

Feminists often suffer openly in Pakistan.

"Zilla Shah was a political feminist, was called "white wing

 for social affairs."

(Women in oppression, Sylvia Chant, 2024)

Thus, women also suffer as feminists.

5. Structural forms of violence against women in Palestine

Following are structural forms of violence with reference to theories:

- a) Power of resources and violence against women: Resources theory Resources dominance leads to violence against women. In fact, resources theory explains well violence due to resources power.

"Mukhtaram Mai was gang-raped in agricultural farm-house."

(Case Study of Mukhtaram Mai)

Hence, resources powers also lead to women violence.

b) Social inequality and social etiological theory

Social inequality also causes women violence. Social etiological theory discuss this phenomenon as:

'Women are most suppressed due to social inequality.'

However,

'Women employment is 16pc as compared to 72pc of men in Qatar.'

(-The World Bank, 2023)

Thus, Social inequality is also a cause of women violence in Pakistan.

c) Retaliation concept in the Exchange theory

Moreover, women also suffer by men on the name of retaliation. In order to avoid any other kind of punishment or reward, woman is used as a retaliation tool.

"A case of Mubshir Maz is a clear
evidence of retaliation."

Thus, women are violated on the concept of retaliation.

b- Conclusion

"Women are being violated, directly and indirectly"

in Pakistan...

(This section)

Women are treated unfairly in Pakistan. Different forms of violence against women are prevailing. These forms are explained with reference to theories of violence. Therefore, women seemed to be the most oppressed gender.

You need to first identified the forms of direct and structural first i.e. physical and sexual as direct Then justify with theories

Answer

Introduction

"Gender equality
advocates justice role
among all individuals."

(- Mary Wollstonecraft)

Modernization theory and Dependency Theory have relevance with gender equality. In fact, both theories have clear opinion on gender relevance. Moreover subordination of women in modern societies can be explained in the light of Modernization and Dependency theories. Therefore both theories explain relevance
with gender equality.

2-

Concept of 'Modernization Theory' Modernization is a higher process from traditional society

to modern society."

(- Modernization theory definition)

Modernization theory

explains the development of modernization of gender. Women with respect to gender equality shifted from traditional role to modern role. Therefore, Modernization Theory explains the modernity.

3-

Concept of 'Dependency Theory'

'Dependency theory is a relation between dominant and sub-ordinate role of genders.

(- Dependency theory definition)

Dependency Modernization theory is a relation between dominant and sub-ordinate gender. In fact, genders are divided on the basis of roles. Thus, dependency theory explains the dominant role and sub-ordinate role of genders.

Dependency theory

4- Relevance of Modernization theory to gender equality

Modernization theory has relevance with gender equality. Women in gender are striving for better image to make gender equality.

"Women in the West want peace in equality,"

While women in the East still demand Modernization to meet equality."

(-Zubaid Mustafa, Gender perspective)

Thus, Modernization theory has relevance with equality.

5- Relevance of Dependency theory to gender equality

Dependency theory also has relevance with gender equality. Role of dominant with sub-ordinate gender prevail inequality.

"Dependency theory explains clear gender inequality when resources of the state are dependent"

However, it can be said as, "More economic equality"

leads to gender inequality."

(Fairclough, 2003)

Lifestyle realignment
(Atkinson, 2003)

Thus, Dependency theory highlights the need of gender equality.

6- Subordination of women in modern societies in the light of Modernization Theory and Dependency Theory

Subordination is

as follows:

a) Women inequality in gender perspective

Women inequality leads to gender inequality. Women are still subordinated in modern societies.

• Women in Afghanistan

leads to gender inequality."

(Farid Bari,

lifestyle recalibration, 2013)

Thus, Dependency theory highlights
the need of gender equality.

6- Sub-ordination of women in modern societies in the light of Modernization Theory and Dependency Theory

Sub-ordination is

as follows:

a) Women inequality in gender perspective

Women inequality
leads to gender inequality. Women are still sub-ordinated in modern societies.

* Women in Afghanistan

are most suppressed"
 (- The World Bank,
 2023)

Hence, women are sub-ordinated in modern world.

b) Economic sub-ordination of women

Women are also sub-ordinated under economic perspective. In fact, women are half of male population of the world, but still suffer economic sub-ordination.

"At least 200 years are required to make
 economic equality
 with involvement of women in labour
 market."

(- The World Economic Forum, 2020)

Thus, women are also economic sub-ordinated.

c) Political dependency of women
 Moreover, women also depend on male politically. In fact, women are sub-ordinated gender in politics role.

"Women lack autonomy in voting right and women also lack autonomy in freedom of decisions in politics."

← Hira Suleem, Women as weak, 2010

Hence, women also depend politically on men.

7- Conclusion

"Society are advanced, but

'are still deprived!'

↳ Zubair & Muzaffar

Women in gender equality
has relevance with two theories
In fact, Modernization Theory and Dependency Theory explain relevance of gender equality. But, women are still sub-ordinated gender in modern societies. Therefore Modernization and Dependency theories
explain relevance with gender equality

You haven't justified well
Explain how lack of modernization and modern values is linked with gender inequality

Post Modern Feminism

Answer:-

Introduction

"Gender is open
language and discourse."

(-Julia)

Post modern feminism
explains cultural and social mechanism. Women are gendered culturally as male are socially defined. Thus, Post modern feminism opened a new way for feminism progress.

2- Post modern feminism: an overview

"Rules and sexuality
is socially constructed."

(-Helene Cixous)

Post modern feminism
is an eye to social influence on gender. Everything is culturally defined. Thus, postmodern feminism leads to cultural openness on gender.

3 - Stages of postmodern feminism

Following are stages:

i) Pre-modern stage: Supernatural Pre-modern stage is supernatural. Authority is supreme role for males.
! Authority is given from Divine..

Hence pre-modern stage advocates supernaturalism.

ii) Modern stage: Anti-supernatural Modern stage leads to anti-supernatural concept. It negates with super-naturalism.

"Authenticity is created by science"

Thus, modern stage negates super-naturalism.

(ii) Post-modern stage: Mystified
roles

Post modern stage
explains concept of mystery.
In fact, everything is hidden and need to be explored.
