QNo2:- Make a precis:-

Almost four billion people casted their votes this year. Mis-information posed a great threat to democracy. Democracy is based on authentic information and aware public. Ill-information lowers the trust in elections. Traditional propaganda, unauthentic accuses, AI-generated media effect voters. Anti-democratic actors could directly influence elections just as in Spain last year. Public awareness and evidence-based campaigns are used to hamper this issue. Intellectuals should identify the problem, accept the falseness of information and interfere with that information.
