Q2. Threat to democratic process of a country

This year, around four billion people voted in elections. But, threat to democratic process remains large. A fair democracy is based on evidence based information. This election based misinformation leads to uncertainty in electoral process. Through different types of propaganda, voters are put under influence. Electoral process is also threatened by anti-democratic agents. Public can be protected against misinformation through education and campaigns. However, implementation of these mechanisms will be ensured when the problem is recognised, acceptance of generated information as false is warranted and by intervening with democratic principles.

Q3

1. The main idea of Enzo Ferrari's quote is that world always remembers the one winning at first place and no one remembers the 2nd one. However, Yusuf Dikec challenge it in a way that he takes 2nd or 3rd place but has become an important player because of his attitude and consistency in sport.

2. Yusuf Dikec, a Turkish sport shooter, became an important and iconic figure in sport because of his skill and consistency in sport. He started his journey at a young age and got recognised at an early age. Also, he rejects the notion of being always in the first place but what matters for him is the admiration he gets.

3. Several factors contribute in why Dikec is always loved despite being in 2nd or 3rd place. Firstly, Dikec holds a realistic approach and responds to both winning and defeat with a balanced approach. Secondly, extraordinary skill and determination is seen in his performances, differentiating him from
