

Progress is impossible without change

Outline :

Introduction : There is no doubt about the fact that progress is impossible without change. All the developed nations are the outcome of continuous change.

How progress is impossible without change

- a) Change is sine qua non for the growth of nation
- b) Flexibility and adaptability are the driving forces of development
- c) Embracing change unlocks the full potential of man.
- d) Change creates more opportunities for man

Date: _____

- e) challenging the status quo opens new ideas and prospectives
- f) Dynamic change motivates man to transform his life
- g) change of minds unleash the beauty of universe
- h) man achieves his excellency through continuous struggles
- i) Every new initiative adds tons of positivity into the lives of man
- j) change strengthens the curiosity of man to impeove comfort level

Conclusion:

Change is crucial for the growth of a nation. Being flexible enables man to develop his life. It creates new ways to unveil the potentials of man. Challenging the existing norms and values brings new perspectives into the lens of man. A practical and dynamic man keeps transforming his life. It makes his life more easy and comfortable. Change of minds unpicks the beauty of universe. It enables man to innovate and discover new things. Innovation is essential for the growth of nation. Man achieves excellency through continuous struggles. It boosts the self-esteem of the man. As a result, man brings advancement to develop the nation. Every new initiative makes life more challenging and lively. Every challenge strengthens man's mental capacity to boost the growth in his life. As a whole, change is inevitable in man's life.

Date: _____

M T W T F S

There is no nation in the world that has not seen change in its life. Change is vital for the progress of nation. Any nation who has disliked change is weak or destroyed. In this contemporary era, if the western nations are developed. It is all because of their flexible nature. They have transformed their lives according to the needs. Contrary to this, one of the causes of Islamic down fall is, they did not adopt change in their lives. That's why, most of the Islamic countries are backward. So, it is clear that change is the life blood of the growth of a nation.

Every nation must develop flexibility and adaptability to bring advancement in their lives.

It brings ease in their lives.

The more a nation adopts the new ways of lives the better they live. A comfortable and sustainable life motivates man to seek for change in his life.

Seeking for change creates many ways for man to unseal the divine nature. It is ultimately the nature and its unending beauty that makes a nation civilized and determined. It boosts the integrity of nation.

The nations, who embrace change have the capability to unlock their full potential.

Unfolding the full potential enables the man to challenge every hurdle in his life. This is the real strength of the man that boosts his self-esteem. Similarly, the nations who have developed their full potential are more robust and practical.

Currently, China is leading a game-changing project (BRI) to change the world order.

The reason is, China has developed change through its continuous struggles.

There are nations and even empires that destroyed because of the revolutions brought by the challengers. French revolution is one of the prominent examples of the change and development. Most of the developed nations got independence in the French revolution. Western people challenged the traditional norms and values to eradicate difficulties in their lives. It enables nations to develop new ideas and perspectives; such as, capitalism, liberalism, communism and socialism. These ideas really changed the order of the world. It brings ease in their lives. It boosts the growth of the nations.

Date: _____

Change in the dynamic perspective brings a sustainable development in man's life. It motivates man to transform his life. Change from being a carpenter to a magistrate is a dynamic and sustainable change. It boosts the self-esteem of the man. It makes man a productive creature to being sub-economic development. It impacts the whole generation of the man. Such a change is a breakthrough in man's life. All in all, struggle is the cornerstone of the change.

Nations destroyed and borne because of the change of ideas and mind. Currently, the rivalry between China and USA is the change of ideas and capacity. USA cannot beat the dominance of China over the world. It takes China as a serious threat to its ideology.

Similarly, the fall of Soviet Union was the result of change of ideas. Change of minds stimulates the power of man's curiosity. It enables man to discover new things and unleash the beauty of nature.

Date: _____

Each new discovery and innovation brings a revolutionary change in the world. Today, if China is firmly competing the USA. The reason is change of technology and innovation.

It is the new advancement of technology and ideas that boosts the economy of the China and its international trade.

There is blessing in striving. Change without struggle makes no sense. Man achieves his full excellency with continuous struggles. Man cannot reach his desired destination with only struggles. He must adopt change in the process of his struggles. It not only makes his journey of struggles beautiful and interesting, but also makes it productive. As a result, he achieves his goals in quick and easy way. It builds the capability of smartness in man. Smart man increased the growth in a civilized manner.

Change brings new initiatives in one's life. Every initiatives either brings positivity in one's life or opens up new ways struggles. A constructive and well-planned initiative brings a paradigm shift in one's life. It is mandatory to adopt a change which is constructive and sustainable. It brings sustainable growth in one's life. Promote and support initiatives which are less harmful for the society. It must ensure peace and harmony in the Society. Currently, Israel has adopted a destructive change to achieve its goal. It has destroyed the peace of the world. To sum up, a constructive must be supported for the growth of a nation.

Date: _____

To conclude that, change is imperative for the growth of a nation. It adds value in the socio-economic development of a nation. It makes nations civilized. It makes man's life comfortable and easy. Embracing change eradicates hurdles in one's life. Man needs to adopt change in his every struggle of life. It broadens man's mental capacity. It enables man to chase his goals in a productive way. There is no shortcut in the way of struggles, but it is the change that makes man smart and decisive. Change helps the man to transform his life. It makes man energetic and motivated. A productive ~~man~~ and curious man unlock the fruits of the nature. As a whole, change is the utmost need of every nation for progress.

Date: _____

M T W T F S