In today's modern world, technology has enabled as to know it an enemy is about to probe strike before they even do so. This kind of surveillance	- technology is imperative when it comes to mean taining the sovereignty of a country. But what happens when the technology is employed within the country? It goes without saying that Pakistan, as a democrati nation, from ses It's people their due rights However, government surveillance with in rights, but also a effects many other Donotospiecifoldida Rakistan country that is faced with many threats which include both eyest and physical. It is important for the detection of the threats without	  compromising the nights of the people. Although government strucillance has its advantages in the aspects of security and technology, it has some severe economic, social, educational, and political disadvantages.
