~~Abraham Lincoln~~

Indent at the beginning of paragraph

The world has witnessed ~~various~~ invasions resulting in world wars, world wars and genocides. These invasions have resulted in human rights violations. Along with outside invasions, internal rottenness has also contributed in the decay of a nation. However, in the contemporary situation of world, it is evident that internal rottenness has contributed more towards the nation's decay than external invasions. This internal rottenness can be in multiple forms like authoritarian regimes, corruption, social inequality, internal terrorism etc. such measures contribute in challenging the writ of state while making it difficult to govern. A nation can be prevented from dying through strict implementation of laws, prioritizing human rights,

Irrelevant to the topic

Human rights violation is not the context of your essay

Why discuss only from Contemporary point.
It's an open topic. Also literary on that.
Don't just discuss one dimension

Don't literally say that. That's what it means

No contractions in formal writing

Sentence structure

instilling moral based education in people etc

Thesis statement?

To begin with the manifestation of the fact that it is the internal rotteness that contribute in the nation's decay, not the invasions, brutal authoritative regimes contribute the most in this factor. Such regimes do not let people and the environment flourish thus leading it to decline of the whole nation. In this regard the authoritative regime of North Korea

Word choice.

How? Elaborate?

The discussion is not just decline. It's death.

under the Kim Jong un's leadership is a classic example of a state being in societal decline, which further contributes in the Nation's decline. Therefore, it can be said that authoritative regimes under brutal leader contribute in the decline of a state.

No proof. Also the nation is not dead yet.

Weak and improper transition

Secondly, it is internal corruption that gives rise to a crime based society. It is another factor that

How is high crime rate equal to death?

Lacks proper analysis. How does that relate to the death of nation states do not prosper but rather go in isolation. For instance, Venezuela is a country with a high crime rate which is again because of its internal factors that plague the whole nation slowly and gradually. Thus corruption is the biggest challenge for a state and the top must hurdle for a in a nation's development.

You need to prove this. You can't simply state it.

Thirdly, another factor that contributes in a nation's decline is social inequality. Social inequality gives rise to a lot of many problems like human right violations, protests, segregation from a particular group etc.

How? How does these relate to death of nation

Here, the case in point is Hindulogic ideology of N Modi against Muslims in India.

That's the 4th largest economy in the world. How exactly is it dying?

This ideology refrains the muslims in India to live freely. It imposes strict restrictions on muslims in souetal, political and religious aspect while preventing them from freedom to live and speech. Therefore,

~~Moreover~~ equality is the top most measure to achieve development and prosperity in a nation, and if not, contributes in the societal disorder and ultimately nations decline.

The topic is not about that.

Moreover, unequal distribution of rights result in internal turmoil

Link to the topic?

You do not argue the lack of rights result in failure or death of nation of a state. Right is a basic necessity for a human being to live in the country. Right can of different aspects like basic, social, political, structural etc. The point of concern here is lack of structural rights in Bangladesh that led to the downfall of Ms. Sheikh Hasina's regime. This very factor contributed in the internal turmoil of Bangladesh leading to the removal of Sheikh Hasina's government. It shows how an internal riot contributes in the Nation's decline.

The discussion is not about regime change. It's about death of a nation

Furthermore, internal terrorism and terror practices is a significant reason why a nation cannot flourish.

Internal terrorism leads to an un-balanced ^{whole} society, creating challenges for the civilians and government. The terror practices of Boko Haram in Nigeria have contributed in the society's dis functionality. The group targets on the education of young girls while calling
'Western education as Haram'.

They focus on teachings of Shariah law and make their own interpretation out of it. Resultantly, This kind of internal turmoil disturbs the country's pillar and results in social decline of a nation.

Every problem comes with a solution.
If internal rotteness can contribute in the decline of a state, there are also some factors through which it can be prevented. The first and foremost factor is the strict implementation of laws. The institutions ~~themselves~~ should be strong and independent enough to provide a strong base of laws and How? You don't argue how that will help and solve the issue. No example to ensure their implementation.

Secondly, Eradicating corruption and nepotism is another factor to make a country fair in its dealings and matters. Only a country can prosper when it's free from the disease of corruption and nepotism.

Thirdly, prioritizing human rights in policy formulation and role of media in promotion of human rights is an important aspect when it comes to the solutions. Human beings are the assets of a nation and if not given duly respect turn into nation's decline. Scandinavian countries are of classic example. Where Finland being in top 3 most happiest country in the world. Media has an important role to play here in promotion of human rights by being free and fair and highlighting the important news.

Instead elaborate the argument

Furthermore, instilling moral principles through core Islamic values in muslim countries and leaders. ~~Even in non Islamic states?~~ ~~Present a holistic solution not for a particular people~~ ~~problem here is~~ that such organizations like Boko Haram make their own interpretation of Islamic values while ignoring the true essence and meaning of Shariah. Islam encourages education for all genders and discourages from gender discrimination. Hence, following the true teachings of Quran and sunnah can lead towards a just and peaceful society.

Lastly, encouraging moral based education is a significant aspect to add in the solution as it paves a way to an equitable society. Education system must emphasize on moral and value based education. This should be added within the parameter of whole education system which will consequently contribute in nation building and cohesion rather than segregation and decline.

In a nut shell, it is evident ^{that} its not the invasions that shatter a Nation, but internal rotteness which can be in form of authoritative ~~regime & power oriented leader, corruption,~~ ~~inequality, terrorism, unequal~~ ~~distribution of resources etc.~~ However every problem has a solution. ~~and~~ such internal rotteness can be prevented. Through proper implementation of laws, ~~eradicating~~ corruption, ~~prioritizing human rights~~ and instilling moral based education and principles through core islami values.

Don't
miss points

Pay attention to the words in the essay. Decay and die are different and will change the tone of the essay. Just examples are Not enough. In 15-17 paragraphs you need 8-9 examples with proper academic references. The discussion should be before the example. And the point should be made in context of argument and essay, not in context of example.
