The crunch paragraph should be in the context of the topic. Not the opposite

This is a case study not an argument. The outline is based on argument.

This does not show that nations do not die of invasion. This is saying they are unable to recover after it.

Also does not say that states do not die of invasion.

These are all case studies not arguments

These points are unrelated to your main heading.

4) How People die from internal conflicts in Pakistan

Also topic is about death of nation not of people.

This is not a state specific topic.

4a) Political polarisation in Pakistan is major detrimental factor for people of Pakistan. It leads to economic crisis which affect people (Imran Khan was removed as PM before completing its tenure by vote of no confidence in 2022)

Conclusion

Indent at the beginning of paragraph

Bangladesh president Sheikh Haseina showed special sympathy for generation of freedom fighters in 1971. She specified special quota for them in civil services jobs. It caused riots among other people when they were declared "Razakar" (oppressors) by Sheikh Haseina. It led to strong protests inside country which enforced Sheikh Haseina and other government officials to not only resign but also exile. As a result of this, military strikes on people which killed 300 people in a month after protests start in 2024. Internal conflicts are due to no unity among people on same motive. These people may be politicians, students, common people or militants. They always lead to destabilize country. External attacks are always secondary cause of destruction. Other countries rush to hegemonize a country when it is weak inside because of disunity among its people and government failure.

What does internal polarisation have to do with that.

That is not the point in the outline. The point in outline is about resolution of internal issues.

When there is no political polarization in country, politicians advance towards liberalism instead of realism. They focus on cooperation of mutual benefits instead of struggling for power. When a state leader is assured of its tenure completion, it works for country progress with dedication.

Xi Jinping, President of China, Joe Biden and Trump of US, Tayyip Erdogan of Turkey are ruling on their countries since long time. It is 3rd term of India PM Narendra Modi which has made India, ~~the~~ fifth largest economy of world. It is long duration of Xi Jinping which forced him to start game changing projects like CPEC.

It is political stability inside US, India and China which have made them largest economies today. They have resolved their internal conflicts in previous century. But
