John Pictor

Corruption is the worst disease in the world. It is absolutely true, nothing is worse than the corruption in world. Disease only harm the person but corruption to everyone. There are different types of corruption, in which preference, Trading favoritism, misuse of power through fraud and harassment, the privilege, cheating and thefting, Last but not the least is Payment in which Laundering and Bribery is common. However there are different types of corruption, as it is not easy to judge anyone who is corrupt. Corruption begins with the Society and every one who has the Power must be corrupt and corrupt Society corrupts the nation and corrupt nations corrupt the states and the state corrupt the another states. However, it works as a cycle. There are several reasons being a corrupt, why Society becomes a corrupt? of course, there must be reasons, and these reasons may be greediness, power, self sufficiency and so on. These reasons are becomes a problem now. To deal with these problem, one must have to take an action that would be helpful to Alleviate the Cause of like Corruption. Otherwise, soon after it will destroy the states of the world and everyone will be suffering through the corruption.

Sentence structure and expression.

Sentence structure

Improper capitalisation

Generalised and sweeping statement.

Use as a contradiction

Redundant expression

Overall expression and Language is weak and immature

Again expression is weak and informal

Thesis statement?

Preference is the type of Corruption. In this type of Corruption people use the method of trading and favoritism. A shop keeper who sells the good for another City and uses third class good to sell and charges the higher. This man is corrupt. A Merchant and trader knows what is to be sold or what not, instead of knowing this if they sold the thing and sells the goods which will cause damage for the consumer, he is responsible for the damage because he knows. In army, the trading of guns, tanks and air jet crafts are very important because through which they are going to fight with enemy. Now the major, general, or the Colonel who is responsible to give the good material, if he buys the coloured old machinery which would be cause of distortion then he is corrupt and he is a corrupt one.

Another example is favoritism, in which jobless people are still in waiting list and they are skillful but favoritism is being working. A person who is responsible to give job but he did not and he gave those who are meritless. he is also corrupt one. And both are corruptful.

Irrelevant to the topic
Besides that paragraph is too long, lacks proper structure. There is no analysis and no research associated with it.

The Second type of Corruption is Power. And the Power is one which can <sup>tense</sup> do anything, good and bad. Powerful people use their power to <sup>sentence structure</sup> ~~praise~~ someone and made them humiliate. Here is the controversy of fair handed Court of martial. The news report shows that he want to get money <sup>of</sup> from top city's housing society, when the Owner refused to give him money, then he went with his team members and ~~steal~~ the money gold as well.

He used his powers to steal/rob Some one. And People are not going to scold him with good words.
Another kind of Power is to humiliate Some one.
There are several Cases we observe not only in Pakistan but also in other Countries. Recently The news is Circulating on the display. A girl <sup>in india</sup> who is rapped in hospital when she want to take rest after 24 hours working.
And the victim went to the police station and went on scpt.
The Police is hand to hand with the victim and using their Power to ~~be~~ create harassment.

Irrelevant to the topic

The third type of corruption is the privilege in which Cheating and stealing is a common phenomena. Asp of the Guantanamo who was hearing the people issue. And we saw the Cases in which she (Wadera) head of village <sup>took</sup> ~~the~~ the advantage of illiteracy and Convinced the Land on his name by thumb marks, and tell them it is for your benefit. This is not only single case but there are several Cases being reporting everyday in which steal and Cheating is common.

Not a word.

It's an abbreviation. Capitalise each letter

Unnecessary capitalisation

Write in 3rd person

No consistency in paragraph length.

Last but not the least type of Corruption is Payment. Every One works in the department to earn and Payment method is necessary tool to Pay off. But it is being observe that the department has been Corrupt in laundring <sup>money</sup> and bribery. Pakistani leaders who are the head and Governor of state are involved in money laundring. The bribery is also being exercise. This bribery is not kept to the local but also <sup>involved</sup> in the judicial System. The judiciary System is the Law and Order maker. When they <sup>it</sup> tries the Corrupt peoples and take bribery to solve the matter issues then it will not be wrong to say that judicial

Irrelevant to the topic

Corruption is worst disease than the Cancer because Cancer Only harm a body but Corruption harms the nations. Cancer appears at the last stage but Corruption appears at the first stage. Cancer, at last stage has very lower chances to survive but Corruption can survive. Corruption destroys the whole system of a country like a cancer destroys the immune system. Completely there is a <sup>die</sup> cure for both, corruption and cancer. At the first stages if they ~~couldn't~~ be stop they will destroy. Corruption is damaging the welfare system. A person in society is corrupt it will corrupt the society. And society will corrupt the nation and nation will be ~~be~~ as a corrupt internationally. And today no ~~one~~ state is free from corruption. Every one is corrupt.

This is wrong form of comparison. As one is an actual disease while the other is being called a disease. The comparison would be in the sense that just like cancer is fatal, similarly corruption is fatal. It destroys societies and states. It has various negative impacts on the systems of state just like cancer has on human body.

What you have discussed in just one paragraph is what the whole essay should focus on.

The question arises here why system is corrupt? The answers can be given in these reasons. Blind trust on system, misuse of authority, lack of law and order. System become corrupt when there is a blind trust on system let them do whatever they are doing and when nobody is arguing against their actions and system they do whatever they want. They use their authority for their activities and harm someone. There is also a reason of lack of law and order. Criminal and anyone who breaks the rule is not being Punish and then nobody has fear of law. Activities are not being taken against corrupt people.

Too many points in end paragraph.

No analysis, no research. Language and expression is informal.

Every disease have medication. Similarly corruption also have obiration. There must be a check and balance on system. Departments and Authorities are free to do whatever they want, nobody is here to judge them. So, there must be check and balance on everyday, how the departments are working and what are the authorities being misused. Secondly, there should be a limited resources to exercise. Unlimited resources become the victim of corruptions. Limited resources will bound them, to not to cross the line, and be in your limit and performs your responsibility, the way it should be. Thirdly there should be punishment for law breaker. There should be no discrimination b/w rich and poor. Everyone must be treated and punish comply to their crime. Any type of corruption they perform must be punish and ~~shout~~ he should have fear of law and order.

The Final Analysis:

The whole essay is an analysis. There is no point in writing the analysis separately.

Corruption is the worst diseases in the world. It harms the nation and society in its various types. Every type of corruption is different but must be analyze and treat the way it should be. Every system being damage and destroying very badly because of corruptions. whatever the causes are behind it, including blind trust, misuse of Authority, law and orders all these reasons must be analyze. And severe actions must be taken against it, including, check and balance, limited resources, and Punishment for corrupt people must be introduced. These remedies can improve the corruption in the world and can improve the welfare of the world.
