

① Subjective Part

Question 2:

Visa Problem Faced by Pakistani
Schengen Countries vs. Pakistan

For Pakistani citizens, getting a visa to west seems a huge event. It feels like locking one's dreams into a file and showing it to the world, but the response is precarious. Contrarily, if a western citizen seeks Pakistan visa, he is welcomed. West may reflect that Pakistanis will create turmoil there, despite the fact that their stamina is wasted in applying for visa and in regretting. They need to realize that Pakistanis are also human. They may understand it if they have to stand in line for Pakistani visa.

Question 3.

(i) Freeman became a businessman from a boxer because of his authenticity. His originality gave him an excellent business opportunity. ~~Moreover, he came to know that~~ opportunity. He knew the fact that true success comes not just from fame, but from using that fame wisely.

(2)

Foreman gave the grill his name as, "George Foreman Grill" in exchange for 40% of the profit. Instead of commercializing the product, he ^{was} advertising himself cooking the burgers with his children. Thus, he legitimized the family and fun. This strategy proves very successful.

(3)

In 1999, Foreman sold the name rights and earned a good sum.

As the competition has increased and market was becoming overload, if he had not sold it then it eventually lose its worth and fame. Maybe, later, nobody is ready to take the name rights or it may sold at meager price.

(4)

First of all, the sentiments of mockery are used. When Foreman decided to rejoin boxing, critics mocked him by calling him "old" and "grandfather!"

Then, the sentiments of warmth and attachment are used. After returning to boxing, Foreman embraced his cheerful and original personality. He became closer to his fans. As a result, audiences fell in love with him quickly.

(5)

This text is successful to a considerable degree in presenting the true picture of Foreman and his struggle. It has explained ^{very well that} when Foreman return to boxing, he had to face the criticism and mocking remarks from some critics. But, he ignored them and struggled to discover his-self. He discovered his true-self and embraced his kind-hearted personality. Then, ^{as} this text also discussed his business struggle and achievement.

Question #7)

Once an African thinker said that when British came to Africa they had modernity and we had land. They say that we have come to give you innovation. So, we closed our eyes. When we opened our eyes, we had innovation and they had our land. Similarly, when social network science came then it has Facebook and Whatsapp - They said that it is free. We followed them blindly and when we regained our consciousness then we had Facebook and Whatsapp and they had our freedom and personal information. Thus, whenever something is free then we have to pay its price by surrendering our liberty.

Question 4)

- (i) Most of the shelves in the library are empty.
- (ii) Chocolate or Vanilla: What do you like best?

- (iii) The culture of our country is richest than any other country in the world.
- (iv) Ten miles is a long distance.
- (v) As principal, he told us about the history of the school, the school curriculum, and a brief speech on his job.
- (vi) She is one of the students who has passed competitive exams.
- (vii) The student has written a twenty-page report last night.
- (viii) Learning how to play piano requires a lot of effort.

Question 5:

Bill Gates, once, had coffee at a coffee-shop. When the waiter was taking the dishes away, Bill Gates tipped him one dollar. "Whenever your daughter comes for coffee, she gives me a five-dollar tip," said the waiter. "She is the daughter of a billionaire," replied Bill Gates. "And I am the son of a poor carpenter." This is why, it is often said, 'never forget your past because

Your past is the greatest teacher.'

Question 5)

(B)

i) into

ii) up

iii) to

iv) up

v) on

vi) with

vii) for viii) on

Question 06)

(A)

iii) Voracious:

His voracious behaviour can be seen at wedding.

Voracious

He is a honest and voracious man.

viii) Epigram:

There is a famous epigram of Benjamin Franklin, "Remember that time is money."

Epigraph:

He wrote an irrelevant
epigraph at the start of his book.

Question 6)

(B)