

Question 03

Comprehension

(1)

There were many different reasons behind the transition of Foreman from boxing to business. The first reason includes his engagement as a preacher. The second reason consists of his family. As he has to support large family of twelve children and the survival was not possible through boxing. Moreover, the Grill Company approachment has also attracted his attention towards business. Similarly, his wife has advised him to pursue business. Hence, these were the reasons behind the transition of Foreman from boxing to business.

(2)

The Success and Competitive edge of George Foreman Grill was based on the personal Charisma of George Foreman. The George Foreman Grill was a product that was launched by a company in consultation and agreement with George Foreman, a former boxer. The recording of commercials with Foreman like cooking burgers provided a competitive edge to this product. The family involvement of George Foreman made it a household product and increased its demand. Hence, the personality of George Foreman contributed in providing the competitive edge to George Foreman Grill.

(3)

The product lost its importance if George Foreman had not sold the name right. The loss of importance of the product had ^{badly} impacted if he remained hesitant to sold name right. The reason was simple behind this. The market competition was growing day by day and the market was becoming overloaded with products. Hence, George Foreman decided to sold his name right in order to earn more money. Therefore, George Foreman remained unable to earn money if he had not sold the name right.

(4)

The various contrasted and complementary emotions are evoked in the story of George Foreman. The contrasting emotions include sad and happy emotions in form of story of George Foreman. The sad emotion arises when George faced economic hardships. While happy emotion arises when he secures success in business. Moreover, the complementary emotions such as motivation and courage are evoked throughout the story by the author. Hence, various contrasting and complementary emotions arise throughout the story.

(5)

The text has remained successful to a great extent in presenting the true picture of Foreman and his struggle. The text meticulously summarises the bad decisions of George Foreman contributing in his economic hardships. Similarly, the text presents good reasons for the success of George Foreman. Furthermore, the text with emotional and courageous tone elaborates the transition of the character from boxing to business. Hence, the text has remained successful in presenting the true picture of George Foreman by employing emotional tone and evoking complementary and contrasting emotions.

Question 02

Precise

Title: Pakistan and Western Countries:

A contrasting visa process

The visa process of Pakistan and western countries is contrasting in nature. The western countries reject Pakistani visa applications by providing minor, baseless, and invalid reasons. While Pakistan grants visas to western citizens with a warm welcome. This contrast of visa acceptance should be changed. The same visa rejection ratio of western countries by Pakistan can end this contrast.

Question of Translation

Once African philosopher said that when Englishmen came in Africa they had ~~modernity~~ and we had land. They argued that ~~we~~ they had come here to promote progress. We had closed our eyes. When we opened our eyes, we had modernity and, they had our land. Similarly, social network science came, they had Facebook and whatsapp. They said that it is free of cost. We had closed our eyes. When our eyes opened, we had Facebook and whatsapp, and they had our independence and personal information. Thus, something is free of cost, we have to pay for it by compromising our independence.

Question of Sentence Correction

Answers

i) Most of the shelves in the library are empty.

iii) The culture of our country is richer than the culture of any other country in the world

iv) Ten mile is a long distance

vi) She is one of the students who has passed competitive exams.

vii) The student wrote a ^{twenty} ~~20~~-pages report last night

Question 05

(A)

Punctuation

Bill Gates once had coffee at a coffee shop. When the waiter was taking dishes away, Bill Gates tipped him one dollar. "Whenever your daughter comes for coffee she gives me a five-dollar tip," said the waiter. "She is the daughter of a billionaire," replied Bill Gates, and I am the son of a poor carpenter." This is why it is often said never forget your past because your past is your greatest teacher.

(B)

i) He poured the water into the glass.

ii) There were lots of shops in the main street

iii) He wrote them a cheque of $1000.

iv) The thief has run away for some money

v) A grey mackintosh was folded by her arm

Question 06

Pair of words

(vii)

Quaint: The city of Lahore has a quaint charm due to its historical legacy.

Queer: Ali displayed a queer behaviour in the meeting.

(vi)

Discrete: The northern areas of Pakistan have discrete beauty.

Discreet: The discreet behaviour of a police officer can restrict crimes.