

Q2: Précis

Title: Schengen Countries: Visas Tantums for Pakistanis

According to the Author, the visa application by Pakistanis for the schengen countries seems like some high profile visa. Pakistani people seems happy to apply for schengen countries visa. But they don't seem welcomed. There are alot of difficulties faced by Pakistanis during the visa process. It seems like schengen countries don't even want to grant visa to them. However, if any European wants to apply for Pakistani visa, he is warmly welcomed by the Pakistanis. The visa process for them is very easy. They will only understand the visa difficulties of Pakistanis if Pakistan treat them the same way as they treat Pakistanis for visa.

Total number of words in original passage: 252

Total number of words required: 84

Total number of words in précis: 98

Q3: Comprehension

1. Reasons behind Foreman's transition from boxing to business

There are different reasons behind Foreman's transition from boxing to business but mainly, the financial instability. George Foreman left his boxing career after being defeated by Muhammed Ali. He had no job and had spent all the money he had. He had to feed himself and his family and for this reason he shifted towards business as soon as he gets the opportunity. Some other reasons included his changed behaviour, his increasing age and his mental ability to use his name wisely.

2. Competitive advantage of George Foreman's Grill

Branding the product with his name as George Foreman's Grill attracted him many customers. It became a household name, selling enormous products yearly. This resulted in huge amount of money for George Foreman. George Foreman's grill earned him over seven million dollars per month which proved that using his name for business purpose went in his favour and he took as much advantage from it as he could.

3. Situation if Foreman had not sold the name rights:

If George Foreman had not sold the name rights it would have resulted in a great loss for him. As the market competition was increasing and the market was getting saturated. So he did the right thing by selling name rights at the right time which would earned him good amount of money. Which would have otherwise resulted in a great loss if he had not sold them.

4. Contrasted and Complementary sentiments in the story:

The contrasted and Complementary sentiments have been used in the story. As it mentions that how George Foreman left his career after one defeat by Muhammad Ali and then spent all his money without any planning for the future. This lead him to financial crises. But, then his comeback to the riches was very great. He used his mind, his fame and worked hard despite people's criticism and started his business and earned an enormous amount of money from it. When he saw that the market was becoming saturated he sold his brand at the right time. In this way, contrasted and complementary sentiments have been used in the story.

_ / _ / 20_

The Text Successfully presented the true picture of Foreman's struggle

The text has successfully to a greater extent presented the picture of ^{George} Foreman's struggle. As it has mentioned every little detail from his bright ~~be~~ shining days to his downfall and then back to his good days. The way different ideas and lessons have been mentioned it really helped reader's understanding. So, it can be said that the text successfully presented the true picture of ^{George} Foreman's struggle.

Q:4. Sentence Correction

- i. Most of the shelves in the library are empty.
- ii. Chocolate or Vanilla, which one do you like the most?
- iii. The culture of our country is richer than any other country of the world.
- iv. Ten miles is a long distance.
- v. He told us about the school's history, its curriculum and gave a brief speech as a school's principal.

Q:5. A. Paragraph Punctuation

Bill Gates once had a coffee at the coffee shop. When the waiter was taking the dishes away, Bill Gates tipped him one dollar. "Whenever your daughter comes for coffee, she gives me a five-dollar tip," said the waiter. "She is the daughter of a billionaire," replied Bill Gates. "And I am the son of a poor carpenter." This is why it is often said, "never forget

— 1 — 1 — but your past because your past is your greatest teacher."

Q5. B.

- i. He poured the water into the glass.
- iii. The people were driven into despair by the hours of war.
- iv. His success cannot be cried away by anyone.
- v. There were lots of shop at the main street.
- vi. The thief has run away with some money.

Q7. Translation

An African philosopher had once said that when British came to Africa they had innovation and we had land. They said that they had come here to give us development. We closed the eyes. When we woke up we had innovation and they had our land. Similarly, with the advent of social science network they had facebook and whatsapp. They said it's free. We closed our eyes and when opened we had facebook and whatsapp and they had our freedom and personal information. So if anything is free we had to pay its price with our freedom.

Q6. B.

1. Blot one's copy-book : Doctor Hina blotted her copy book by malpractising.

2. Hang up one's hat : I hung up my hat in medical field because I had to prepare for the competitive exams.

3. Eat crow : Germany had to eat crow after World war two because she had no other option.

4. Dead wood : China used to take old people as deadwood but then she changed her attitude towards them.

5. Midas touch : My brother has midas touch when it comes to real estate or crypto business.

Q6. A.

i. Peek : My sister peeked into my room and she was acting strange, like she lost something.

ii. Pique : Her loud voice piqued her husband as he was not used to the noise.

_ / _ / 20_

ii). Flounder : When I saw my patient with ~~tipical~~ fracture after his open reduction internal fixation. he was still floundering.

Founder : Quid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah is the founder of Pakistan.

iii) Voracious : According to Machievalli, the a prince should be voracious like a lion.

Veracious : He has a reputation of being veracious that's why all the people at the office trust him alot.

iv). Tortuous : Aliya lives in muree and the way to her house from the main road is ~~is~~ tortuous.

Torturous : Placing central lines is a very torturous procedure for the patient.

v). Quaint : She felt ashamed in taking her friend's to her grandmother's quaint house.

Queen : John's mother is mad at him because he fell in love with his best friend who is Queen.