

QUESTION : 02

PRECIS

PAKISTANI VISAS INSCHENGEN COUNTRIES

Schengen countries reject Pakistani visas on travelers grounds. Applying for their visas is already a hectic process, yet the visa acceptance remains random rather than legitimized. Conversely, a foreigner can easily have a Pakistani visa who finds people here welcoming, portraying apex-hospitality. Schengen states before distrusting Pakistanis must remind themselves about the visa and documentation process <sup>that</sup> Pakistanis go through. Hence, the west needs to treat Pakistanis in a humanely manner lest the tables turn.

Words in Precis : 75

Words in Passage : 215

QUESTION: 03COMPREHENSION

1)

Ans

According to the passage, Foreman, after becoming the oldest world heavyweight champion, left boxing as he found his success outside the ring. Foreman became a responsible father who consolidated his family over cheese burgers - that he loved the most. This authenticity eventually became the reason for him to start a business. Besides, his wife also praised him for this. Foreman too knew that stability of finance is important in life as he returned from being broke. Hence, these were the reasons behind Foreman's transition from boxing to business.

2)

Ans

The competitive advantage of the George Foreman Grill was its unique design. This lets the grease to drain off at one side. Also, Foreman through advertisement did not sell the grill but market himself and his family. This approach also provide competitive advantage to George Foreman Grill, resulting in quite a profit.

3)

Ans

The foreman sold the name rights in 1999. Around that time the grill market had become saturated and competition was increased too. Rather than clinging for more profit, Foreman decided to step-out. If he had not sold the name rights, he might have been broke again. So, his move was calculated by Foreman. If he were to own rights, the result would have been upset for him.

4)

Ans

In this passage, contrasting and complementary sentiments are evoked. To spend lavishly and without planning highlighted the contrasting sentiment, along with Foreman taking his retirement back. On the other hand, the lesson learnt by Foreman during his journey are complementing sentiment - especially after his second retirement. This included reinvention, resilience and courage. So, there are the contrasting and complementing sentiments in story.

5)

Ans

The passage is quite successful in presenting the picture of Foreman and his struggle. It has depicted how Foreman came back in a zig and took the stake positively. Afterwards, Foreman even after second retirement pushed himself in business. Then in business

Foreman portrayed business sensibility. He did not go for more but run the business smoothly by utilizing his fame. Therefore, the passage has successfully presented the true image of Foreman.

QUESTION : 04 (SENT. CORRECTION)

- iv. Ten miles is a long distance.
- ii. Chocolate or Vanilla : which do you like more?
- vi. She is one of the students who has passed the competitive exams.
- vii. The student wrote a 20-page report last night.
- iii. The culture of our country is richer than any country in the world.

QUESTION : 05

(B) Preposition

- (i). He poured the water into the glass.
- (iv). His success can not be cried upon by anyone.
- (vi). The thief has run away with some money.
- (vii). He wrote a cheque of $ 1000.
- (v). There were a lot of shops in the main street.

QUESTION: 05

(A)

Punctuation

Bill Gates once had a coffee at a coffee shop. When the waiter was taking the dishes away, Bill Gates tipped him one-dollar. "Whenever your daughter comes for coffee, she gives me a five-dollar tip," said the waiter. "She is the daughter of a billionaire," replied Bill Gates, "and I am the son of a poor carpenter." This is why, it is often said, "never forget your past because your past is your greatest teacher."

QUESTION: 06

(A)

Pair of Words.

(vii)

The old furniture makes more noise in a quiet room.

The queer behaviour of Amir raised the eyebrows of police hence, he was questioned.

(iii)

Some controversial studies suggest that fast food makes people voracious-eaters.

On voracious account, women in Pakistan are discriminated in every walk of life.

(vi)

The rapid urbanization has discreetly the presence of green-belts from Karachi.

Gender inequality can be seen in a discreetly fact that out of 26 million out-of-school children, 60 percent are girls.

(i)

The highest peak of Himalayas in Pakistan is Nanga Parbat in G.B.

The crying kid pleaded Amir to reach that he left the room abruptly.

(ii)

Bill Gates and her ex-wife are the founders of Gates Foundation - an NGO.

The police received a complaint of a gang that plunders around in night to loot people.

(B)

(ii)

As Amjad walked down stairs, he found his wife hanging-up his hat.

(iv)

Many veteran economist are more or less dead wood in reality.

(viii)

The bull-run of PSX index might end-up soon, making it a shattering violet.

(v) Conclusion to any writing must act as Midas touch, making it comprehensive.

(vi) The pit and easy trend is common among Gen Z. Many believed it makes them immoral.

QUESTION : 07

TRANSLATION

Once an African personality said that when foreigners came to Africa, they had technology, and we had land. They claimed that they were there to provide this technology to them. Trusted blindly, we closed our eyes until we started realizing that we are left with technology, while they own our lands. Similarly, ~~the~~ when social-networking emerged, the West had Facebook and WhatsApp. They claimed it as free. We blind golded our eyes once again, and when we woke-up to reality, we <sup>were</sup> left with Facebook and WhatsApp, while they were in control of our freedom and personal data. Hence, whenever something is claimed to be 'free', it is the price of freedom that actually needs to be paid.

X ————— X