Question # 5

Punctuation

Bill Gates, once, had a coffee at a coffee shop. When the waiter was taking dishes away, Bill Gates tipped him one dollar. "When-ever your daughter comes for coffee she gives me a five dollar tip", said the waiter.

"She is the daughter of the billionaire," replied Bill Gates, "and I am the son of a poor carpenter." This is why it is often said, "never forget your past because your past is your greatest teacher."

Translation

An African Philosopher once said, when the Britishers came, they had poignancy and we had land. They started saying that they came here to make us developed. We closed our eyes and ignored. When we opened our eyes, they had poignancy and they had our land. In the same manner, when social network science arrived, they had Whatsapp and Facebook. They said, these are free. We closed our eyes again. And when we opened them, we had Facebook and Whatsapp and they had our independence and personal information. Hence, whenever there is free, we have to pay its price by our independence.
