

Question No 2

Precis

Title: Nationality: A cause of discriminat<sup>on</sup> behaviours.

The Schengen countries often reject visas of Pakistani citizens on very trivial and petty issues. Applying visa for such countries is a long, hectic and laborious process but after completing all the requirements, they reject the visas by suspecting our identity and our purpose to visit their countries. However, the case is completely contrasting in case Western world apply for Pakistani visa. ~~They~~ ~~are~~ They are given red carpet welcomes and treated as a guests. So, these countries must realize that Pakistanis are not extraterrestrial creature, they must be treated humanly or they realize the situation when they put Pakistani citizen's shoes.

COMPREHENSION

Q1- What were the reasons behind Foreman's transition from boxing to business?

Foreman was getting old and he analyzed the situation very well that at this age he won't be able to continue boxing. He saw himself as a broke and after his last win, he made a very calculated decision of transitioning from boxing to business in order to give a good living to his family and to secure his name in a different profession.

Q2- What was the competitive advantage of the George Foreman Grill?

The competitive advantage of the George Foreman Grill was that it excelled the market and became a household name, selling millions of units annually. With the branding, tagging and advertising of George Foreman to the grill, made it the best selling product in the market than any other grills by different companies.

Q3- What would have happened if Foreman had not sold the name rights?

The market was becoming saturated. as many other companies started excelling in the same business. The competition was increasing, so, if Foreman had not sold the name rights, it would lead toward decline and Forman would have to face serious repercussions like financial losses or standstill of business.

Q4- What kind of contrasted and complementary sentiments are evoked in this story?

The complementary sentiments evoked through Foreman's story are of resilience, passion, reinvention and understanding about how true success comes from but the contrasted sentiments evoked from the story explains that it is not just the fame, passion and resilience that gives success but success comes from using them aptly, appropriately and wisely.

Q5- How far is the text successful to present the true picture of Foreman and his struggle?

The text aptly presented the true picture of Foreman and his struggle. It shows that Foreman's success convinced him to retire very early, but he ~~does~~ did not use his fame rightly, and soon became broke. But, Foreman learnt from his mistakes, struggled again and this time he made right choices and decisions which helped him to secure his name again.

X — X

QUESTION No 4

Sentence Correction

- (i) Most of the shelves in the library are empty.
- (iii) The culture of our country is richer than that of any other country in the world.

- (iv) Ten miles is a long distance
- (vi) She is one of the students who has passed competitive exam.
- (viii) Learning to play piano requires a lot of effort.

Question No 5

Punctuation Preposition

- (i) He poured the water into the glass.
- (iv) His success cannot be cried over by anyone.
- (v) There were lots of shops on the main street.
- (vii) He wrote them a cheque for $1000
- (viii) A grey mackintosh was folded around her arm.

Punctuation

Bill Gates, once had coffee at a coffee shop. When the waiter was taking the dishes away, Bill Gates tipped him one dollar. "Whenever your daughter comes for coffee she gives me a five-dollar tip", said the waiter. She is the daughter of a billionaire, replied Bill Gates and I am the son of a poor carpenter. This is why, it is often said: "Never forget your past because your past is your greatest teacher."

Question 7

Translation

Once an African thinker said that when the British came to Africa, they had innovation and we had land. They said: "We came to make you developed." We closed our eyes and believed them. When we opened the eyes, we had their equipments and they had our land. Similarly, with the invention of social network science, they had facebook and whatsapp. ~~and~~ They said, "It is free". We closed our eyes and when eyes <sup>got</sup> opened, we had facebook and whatsapp and they had our freedom and personal information. Hence, whenever something is free, we have to pay for it by giving our freedom.