An African intellectual once said that when Britain came to Africa they had the innovation and we had the land. They said that we came here to develop your land and you as well. We trusted them with blind eyes. When we opened our eyes we had the destitution, and they had the land of ours. Similarly, invented when social network became assured, they had Facebook and WhatsApp. They said, it's free. We closed our eyes, and when we opened them, we had Facebook and WhatsApp and they had our freedom and personal information so, whenever something is free, we end up paying the price with our freedom.
