According to realist school of thought man is selfish by nature. It means in order to pursue his interest, he would go beyond morality or moral limits. This perspective is proving now a days, Muslim countries like Pakistan, Saudi Arab, Dubi UAE etc are adopting silent behavior on the brutal slaughter of Muslims in Palestine by Israeli forces. Because of their selfish interest, they are closing their eyes on the cruel behavior of Jews. Muslim states are adopting that realist perspective that Machiavelli gave in his book "The Prince" - According to him if you want to survive grab the power. Therefore, that selfish and immoral behavior is creating gap between states.

and society, because states are trying to pursue their interests but society wants them to fulfill the religious solidarity. This gap between state and society is predicting the future Arab spring. Because state's selfish fulfillment of interests is alienating the society. Hence, nations play the cards of religion, culture and ideology in order to pursue their national interests. However, when these same factors contradicting their interests they adopt ostrich behaviour.

According to father of realism, Morgenthau, national interests are driving force behind states foreign policy. Muslim countries are adopting the same selfish attitude towards political slaughterers of Muslims in Palestine. States are trying to achieve the economic, political and strategic goals. While this struggle of interest they are forgetting or intentionally ignoring their religious solidarity. For instance, countries like Jordan, Bahrain and UAE <sup>has</sup> recognised the Israel as an independent state. This selfish persuasion of interest is the main concept of realism.

Similarly, Machiavelli, the dictator of Italy, in his book "The Prince" gave the idea of state. He compared the state with man. He stated that just like man states ~~are~~ should also be amoral and selfish. States take the decision according to their interest as man. If we look at the muslim states, they are behaving in the same way of Machiavellian states. There was a time when muslim states were using the idea of religion under the leadership of Gamal Abdul Nasser, they were <sup>united</sup> under the umbrella of Pan Islamism. Now they are ignoring the same religion and adopting ostich behaviour because now religion is not persuing their interest.

Similarly, realism also gives the idea of 'might is right'. Now a day, israel with American <sup>absolute</sup> support, is powerful. Therefore muslim ummah is completely silent, instead of supporting their muslim brother in palestine. When it comes to power, then there is no human rights, there is no religious solidarity, and there is not muslim brotherhood. once Henry Kissinger said "There are no permanent friends and enemy on international arena only interests are permanent" and this is proving with the muslims response on palestine cause.

Resultantly this selfish behaviour of states is not aligning the with societies of muslim states. which is creating a huge gap between states and society. societies wants to take ~~be~~ blunt actions against the that cruel state of israel. on the other hand states and leader dont want to act emotionally and following the State's interest without indulging emotions in their decision making process. Because there is no place of emotions when it comes to decision making process. But this rational of states is not understandable for people of the states which creating the distance or gap between them - Arab Spring I was the best example of gap between state and society.

If we analyze the response of muslim states on Palestinian cause it would make us realize the rationale behind the ostrich behavior of states.

First of all, Saudi

Arabian, which is not taking the blunt action against israel's brutality and adopting the stance of peaceful solution of dispute.
By analyzing the MBS's foreign policy, he want we can realize that he want to normalize relations with other countries even Iran for peaceful environment of region, because peace in the region is necessary element for fulfilment of his vision 2030. Therefore he trying to normalize the relation with Iran and Syria, and opting
the peaceful resolution approach on Israel Palestine issue. That is manifestation of states selfish aspirations.

Similarly, Egypt is also adopting the peaceful resolution of dispute between israel and Palestine and for fear saving in the front of society ~~adopting~~ sending the medicine and food on the name of help.

General Sisi don't want to alienate the society due to palestinean cause their for, on the one hand side he closed the border for migrant from Gaza border, on the other hand sending aid to the people palestine - on the other hand

Iran is bluntly supporting the palestine through the different proxies in Syria, Iraq, Lebanon etc. By analyzing the policy of Iran on Israel palestine issue one can realize that he want to be regional hegemon by overpowering Iran Saudi Arabia. Iran is supporting palestinean but cause behind it is also its interest not religious solidarity. It mean when it comes to national interests they outweigh the religious solidarity.

on the other hand Turkey is also supporting the palestinean cause
blantly. Tayyip Erdogan's speeches clearly and vociferously supporting
the palestinean cause.
Turkey also sending the aid for people of palestine. Netanyahu sarcastically replied to

Tajypov's speeches, about In which he said that what is happening in Palestine is clear violation of human rights. Netanyahu replied that who is chanting the slogan of human rights which used to slaughter Kurds.

Similarly, Pakistan is also hesitating to take blunt step against Israel because of his weak economic and political conditions. If a state economically stable that can interfere others issue but if state itself facing the economic instability and political unrest how that state can interfere or intervene in the matter of Palestine Israel.

Therefore, like most of muslim states Pakistan is also adopting the silent or strict behaviour on this issue. That silence on the slaughter of muslim is causing unrest in the muslim society

Although <sup>ready</sup> society states are not taking steps against israel which is against the people aspirations it is causing gap b/w

states and societies, which can lead to

another Arab spring.

Hence, one can say national interest <sup>can</sup> topple the religious solidarity or ideological aspirations. States adopt that policies which suits to their country rather than following religion ideology or cultural factor, state use these factor to pursue their interest but when the same factors contradicting their interest then they adopt ostrich behaviour. Muslims states are today like Machiavellian states, which are selfish, unpredictable and amoral. For instance Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, UAE and Jordan's behavior. This rational of states creating gap between states and societies. Which would leads to another Arab spring. But hopefully state would realize their that they should return to their route and follow act upon their religious solidarity other wise outcomes will be devastating.
