

Preus Test 1

17/50

QUESTION NO 3:-

- 1) ~~Transparent~~ Honest X
- 2) Fluent X
- 3) Relieve X
- 4) Aggravate X
- 5) Widespread X 2
- 6) Relicent ✓
- 7) Mate X
- 8) Preuse X
- 9) Create X
- 10) Indifference ✓

QUESTION NO 2:-

- 2) The primary reason why people fail to keep their New Year resolutions is the way the goals are set. These goals are not based on personal commitment or desire to improve rather are influenced by impulsive decisions and societal pressures of having a New Year Resolution. As these decisions are impulsive and are not supported by a personal thought process, the resolutions are pretty vague and unrealistic to achieve.

✓

3

2)

The resolutions are ineffective even though people are highly motivated at the start of the year because the goals set are usually idealistic, unmeasurable and do not align with the current realities. Thus people leave them as soon as it starts getting difficult and as they lack commitment.

2

3)

The psychological factor that keeps people making New Year resolutions is the feelings and desire for renewal and a chance for reinvention. It boosts people to start their year with fresh ideas, thoughts and goals. ~~It~~

4) The more effective approach to achieving lasting change would be ^{to} set realistic, measurable, attainable and time bound goals that are shaped around their personal priorities and their daily schedules. Moreover to break down the goals into smaller achievable steps to keep oneself motivated.

Topic: Smaller acts of corruption and their consequences

5 The small acts of corruption have far-reaching consequences. Ignoring these acts of immorality as being too trivial or harmless lead to the normalization of corruption in a society. The unaccountability of such actions promote open corruption and societal damage. This is not just an ethical concern, rather as it hinders progress public welfare, meritocracy and equality within a society. Moreover, it creates feelings of resentment and hopelessness among people who follow rules as majority does otherwise. Thus to create a fair society, everyone needs to hold themselves accountable for all their actions, not indulge in evil deeds and not compromise on their morals.

Topic: Consequences of smaller acts of corruption