

The wonders of Reading

Brainstorming

→ improve writing and communication skills.
→ improve vocab
→ improves language.

Professional growth.

Escapism

↳ Reduce stress and overthinking

↳ Entertainment

Wonders of Reading

Social growth

↳ improve communication.

↳ increases social abilities.

Personal growth.

↳ increases critical thinking

↳ gives different perspective

↳ increases knowledge

about different things.

Your language is fine to some extent.

However your phrasing is too ambiguous. One can't understand the idea from your outline.

You are required to work on the following things

* Must work on the making of outline

* Improve expressions

* Sentence structure should be improved

* You are required to work on your argumentation

* Don't start sentences from but so because Also

* Punctuation

Must attend the tutorial session for further suggestions and flaws

Outline

1 Introduction.

2. Personal sentence form

- (i) Increases critical thinking
- (ii) sharp ability to adopt different perspectives
- (iii) Reduces screen time.

It can't be a wonder

2.2 Escapism ?

- (i) Activity to pass time.
- (ii) Reduces stress and overthinking
- (iii) Gives pleasure.

Your points are not making sense owing to the style of your phrasing.

2.3 Social growth

- (i) Improves communication skills.
- (ii) Gives knowledge about different cultures.
- (iii) Increases social abilities.

2.4. Professional growth.

- (i) Improves language.
- (ii) Improves writing and speaking skills.
- (iii) Enhances professional knowledge.

3 Conclusion

Work on the making of your outline. Because your phrasing style is not suitable at all.

"Today a reader, tomorrow a leader". Reading is an activity which is considered a necessity in today's world, it plays a huge role in the development of a person. It can be for different purposes i.e. for entertainment, for educational purpose, for learning a new skill, and it can be a hobby. People read according to their taste. Some people read fiction and some people read non-fiction. However, it gives so much benefits. There are so many wonderful readings such as personal growth, ~~chapters~~, ~~and~~ ~~growth~~ and professional growth.

Is it your introduction?

Avoid informal writing

Why are you telling this to me? Your introduction has to be the reflection of your outline.

To grow personally, it helps the person to know himself and it increases the critical thinking of a person. The Books like "Rich Dad, Poor Dad" helps the person to know about different ways to earn money. The Books like "Skigai", "Conse Deim" helps the person to be happy in life. The Books like "Reclaim your Heart" helps to learn different think spiritually. It means the person get A lot knowledge about different aspects of life from books which increase the critical thinking of a person, not only readings increases the critical thinking ability. it also helps to adopt diverse opinions and be open minded because through books, person get to know about different perspectives and aspects that he himself have not experienced. The Books like "The Last 8 Minutes 20 Seconds", Mill on the Floss, gives the person a story behind people who end up being bad. Reading Books like these helps the person to be empathetic towards wrong people and help them to be good again. Reading also helps a person to be productive and avoid wasting time on mobile phones. Usually a person who is sitting at home and have nothing to do use mobile phones which can be harmful to his health and eyes so if a person reads then, he can avoid using mobile phones or any technology. So, Reading help the person grow personally, be open minded and accepting towards others.

Fabricated

Don't need to explain examples

In addition to the growth, Reading also helps to escape from harsh reality help him to be happy and Reading can be helpful time. and make it productive. have found out that Reading help people to reduce stress escape from the harsh reality a person needs, he become and forget all the problems in his life. It gives the person all tensions in his life happy in life. There are many books available to reduce depression which also help him to be aware of the problems facing mentally. "Anxiety" is good to find the root cause then helps the person. Moreover, Reading help to get happiness from story books and increase the aesthetic perception.

In addition to the personal growth, reading also helps the person to escape from harsh realities and help him to be happy and enjoy life. Reading can be helpful to pass the time and make it productive. Research have found out that Reading helps people to reduce stress and tension and escape from the harsh realities of life. When a person is sad, he become fully busy in it and forget all the problems and challenges in his life. It gives the person peace from all tension in his life and help him to be happy in life. There are different books available to reduce depression and anxiety which also help him to cure himself and be aware of the problems that he is facing mentally. The book like "unwinding Anxiety" is good to read which helps to find the root cause of anxiety and then helps the person to cure it. Moreover, Reading also helps the person to get happiness. By reading different story books and novels, a person can get the aesthetic pleasure by reading.

Thirdly, Reading can also help the person to be socially active and sharp the person's ability to deal with the different people belonging to different culture and class. Reading about different culture helps to get to know about different traditions and customs which can help the person to accept different traditions and gives him knowledge so that he can avoid using the language that can ~~be~~ ^{be} offending the person of that culture. A person can also get to know about the behaviours which can be vulgar in that culture. For example a book about a culture of china can give the information about its culture and by that reading that book a person can be able to actively participate in that culture and communicate easily. Additionally Reading can also increase the social ability of a person. A person get a lot of knowledge about different topics and interests which can help the person to be knowledgeable enough to talk about and it will be easy for the person to start the conversation.

Book name?

Fourthly, Reading can also be helpful in professional growth of a person. A person who reads can never become outdated in his life.

Firstly, ~~reading is helpful in improving the language of a person either academically or professional.~~ A student who reads different books in English, his language improves which help him in his examination and educational process. Moreover when a person enters in a professional setting, reading can help him to get knowledge about his job which can help him to grow and improves his skills. For example when a doctor have habit of reading different research studies and articles about different diseases and latest update, it can help him to become more aware doctor likewise is with all other professions. So, Reading is very helpful in professional growth.

Reading plays great role in personal, social, professional and mental growth. people should develop the habit of reading which can give them many benefits.

It seems like your essay isn't complete.

as

Pncis

Challenges to for Pakistan

For Pakistanis, Schengen countries is an event which will treat Pakistanis as if they do some conspiracy, rejected even before hand, visa in Pakistan is easy, they are the energy of Pakistan visa and if guaranteed more about the purpose should treat Pakistan maybe Schengen being line in Pakistan