

Question - 2

05/20

Hypocritical Behavior of Schengen Countries Visa Rejections: A Pakistani Perspective

The author compares the flawed behaviour of European Union's countries towards Pakistan's citizens and Pakistan's hospitality towards their citizens. Pakistani nationals visa applications are rejected due to minor issues. Pakistanis are treated suspiciously and investigated deeply before accepting the application, and if they get that, they regret their decision to go there. On contrary, when Europeans come to Pakistan they are welcomed with hospitable services. Europeans treatment depict that Pakistanis are threat to them.

The author wishes same treatment for Europeans urging these countries to recognize that Pakistanis are human beings, not threats too.

Overall idea is ok
 Title needs improvement.
 Grammar is ok.

(original text = 233 words)
 Precise = 79 words

General Instructions

Precis should be one 3rd of original passage

Your passage reflect the original idea

Don't take direct sentences from the passage

It is not the narration do precis

Title should be self-defining and self-explanatory to the passage

Good
Length of Answers is enough
Avoid irrelevant and repetition of ideas

10/20

Question - 3:

Q1:

Answer:

George Foreman faced financial challenges after retiring from boxing and losing his fortune due to bad decisions and poor financial planning. This situation again led him to the ring, but then he turned towards business due to his authentic personality and the opportunity to connect with fans outside of sports. His charismatic image resonated with audiences and he successfully continued his business.

Q2:

Answer:

The George Foreman Grill's unique design, which allowed grease to drain off, made it appealing to health conscious consumers. Additionally, Foreman's marketing strategy emphasized family, fun, and his own warmth and Charisma rather than focusing solely on the product. His personal connection with fans made the grill stand out in a competitive market and helped it become a household name.

Q3:

Answer:::

IF Foreman had not sold the naming rights, he might have faced loss. As competition was increasing and the market was becoming saturated, his earnings could have declined. However, selling the rights allowed him to capitalize on the brand's peak value and secure a significant financial windfall, ensuring long-term financial stability.

Q4:

Answer:

The story evokes contrasting emotions of defeat and triumph, illustrating Foreman's fall from grace and his subsequent resurgence. It juxtaposes the ridicule he faced and the admiration he earned later. Moreover, the narrative highlights complementary sentiments of resilience, reinvention and optimism. This shows how setbacks can lead to new opportunities when approached with the right mindset.

Q5:

Answer:

The text effectively portrays George Foreman's journey of resilience, from his initial boxing glory to his financial success struggle and eventual reinvention. It highlights the authenticity, determination, and ability to turn challenges into opportunities. This comprehensive account of his business success complements the story of his personal struggles, providing a comprehensive view of his life and emphasizing the value of reinvention and strategic decision making.

Question - 4:

08/10

(i)

Most of the shelves in the library are empty.

(ii)

Chocolate or Vanilla: Which do you like better?

(iii)

The culture of our country is richer than that of any other country in the world.

(iv)

Ten miles is a long distance.

(vi)

She is one of the students who have passed the competitive exams.

Question-5

(A)

04/05

Bill Gates once had a coffee at a coffee shop. When the waiter was taking the dishes away, ~~Bill~~ Gates tipped him one dollar. "Whenever your daughter comes for coffee she gives me a five-dollar tip," said the waiter. "She is the daughter of a billionaire," replied Bill Gates, "and I am the son of a poor carpenter." This is why, it is often said: "Never forget your past, because your past is your greatest teacher."

(B)

01/05

- (i) He poured the water into the glass.
- (ii) The government has tided up dip cultures.
- (iii) The people were driven into the despair by the horrors of war.
- (iv) His success cannot be creed

down

- v) over by anyone.
There were lots of shops in the main street.

Question-6

(A)

04/05

- (ii) • The students did not know the answer. They were just blundering on the sheet.

- The ship foundered in deep oceans.

- (v) • Angry man shears the property documents.

- The sheer jacket made him feel extreme cold.

- (vi) • The building was made up of discrete stones.

- Though he was discrete while smuggling drugs, but he was caught by police.

Both should be correct to get marks

- (vii) • The quaint lady did not agree to the feminist ideas. ✓
• Queer people did not listen to others, they only tell others how to do certain things. ✓
- (viii) • It is not everyone's cup of tea to understand witty epigram. ✓
• The play was incomplete without Epigraph in it. ✓

(B)

05/05

- (ii) The old man will hang his hat next week, after the service of twenty years. ✓
- (iii) The ruler finally ate crow for his corruption. ✓
- (iv) Ronaldo has a Midas touch in his football career. ✓
- (vii) After eating so much junk food, he was as full as tick. ✓

(vi) The Queen after the inauguration of his son felt fat and sassy.

Question

02/10

An African thinker once said, "When the British came to Africa, they had innovation, and we had land...."

Nothing is free in this world, and if something is provided for free it will take people's liberty. Same is the case with modernity and science and technology. Europeans introduced social media and provided it us for free and behind its glow they quickly unbounded our privacy and fettered our liberty. The same scenario can be illustrated through the words of African philosopher. He says that English people traded their modernity with us on the cost of our land. Thus, ~~the~~ every gift has a price.

Attempt in idiomatic and proverbial manner
Focus on grammar please
Do not attempt word by word

See the original passage of Urdu

So, whenever something is free, we end up paying for it with our freedom.