

Part II

- Q) Discuss in detail what the autonomy and integration debate in gender studies have important contribution for the development of the field of knowledge.

Definitions :-

Autonomy

Autonomy in gender studies refers to maintaining gender studies as a separate, self-contained discipline. This approach emphasizes the unique perspectives, theories and methodologies that are specific to gender studies, allowing scholars to focus deeply on issues related to gender without the influence of traditional academic structure.

Integration

Integration involves incorporating gender analysis into broader academic fields such as sociology, political science, history and others. This approach promotes interdisciplinary collaboration, ensuring that gender issues are addressed within the context of various disciplines, thereby enriching the overall academic discourse.

Debate and Importance

1) Autonomy in Gender Studies

a) Specialized focus :-

Maintaining autonomy allows gender studies to delve deeply into specific gender-related issues. It enables scholars to develop and refine theories and concepts unique to the field, such as intersectionality and gender performativity.

B Unique Perspectives

An autonomous approach preserves the distinct viewpoints of gender studies, ensuring that its critical stance towards societal norms and power structures is not diluted.

C Critical Stance :-

Gender Studies, as an autonomous discipline, can maintain a strong critical perspective towards mainstream academic practices and societal inequalities.

2) Integration in Gender Studies

Integration encourages collaboration across various academic fields, bringing diverse perspectives and methodologies into gender studies. By embedding gender analysis into multiple disciplines, gender issues can be addressed more comprehensively, leading to a broader societal impact.

Contributions to the field of Knowledge

The debate has encouraged the inclusion of a wide range of topics within gender studies, such as masculinity, transgender identities, and the intersections of gender with race, class, and sexuality. This expanded scope allows for a more comprehensive understanding of the complexities of gender. Scholars have developed new research methods to balance the benefits of both autonomy and integration. This includes interdisciplinary approaches and the combination of qualitative and quantitative research, leading to more robust and holistic analyses.

Conclusion :-

The autonomy and integration debate has significantly shaped the development of gender studies, making it a more comprehensive, interdisciplinary and impactful field. By balancing the benefits of both approaches, scholars have expanded the scope of gender studies, developed innovative methodologies and enriched the academic discourse with critical perspectives. Ultimately, this debate has contributed to a deeper understanding of gender issues and promoted gender equality in academia and beyond.

Q Write short notes

(a) Women and Globalization :-

Globalization has profoundly impacted women, offering both opportunities and challenges. Economically, it has increased women's participation in the workforce, particularly in developing countries. Access to education and technology has improved, enabling skill development and empowerment. However, globalization has also exacerbated inequalities, with many women in low-wage, precarious jobs facing exploitation. Cultural pressures often reinforce traditional Important Note to get Good marks in Gender Studies.

Marks would be given on the following parameters

a- Content 60% References 15% Subject specific language 15% Graphs and charts 10%

Add 12-13 headings in each question

the questions carry 3_4 parts... each part has equal weightage so discuss all equally

(b) WID, WAD, GIAD

use subject specific jargons e.g. Patriarchy, entrenched traditional values etc. Also, do not add blunt statements use types, waves and theories of feminism as references attempt all parts in the question do not neglect one add facts and figures to support your argument

add pictorial description as well

Add names of Mary Wollstonecraft, craft,

Judith Butler, Stuart Mill, Simone de Beauvoir,

Rafia zakria, Rubina Seghal, Farzani Bari etc.

in relevant arguments to make your paper attractive.

good luck

gender roles, limiting women's potential. Despite these challenges, global women's movements have emerged, advocating for rights and equality. Addressing these issues requires concerted efforts to promote gender equality and ensure that globalization benefits all women.

WID focuses on integrating women into development projects to ensure they benefit equally. It emphasizes women's economic participation and access to resources like education and healthcare. However, it often overlooks structural inequalities.

WAD critiques the global capitalist system, emphasizing the interconnectedness of women's productive and reproduction roles. It advocates for challenging systemic factors that marginalize women but sometimes lacks practical solutions.

GIAD focuses on the social constructions of gender roles and relations, aiming to transform unequal power dynamics. It promotes gender mainstreaming in all development policies, emphasizing both women's and men's roles in achieving gender equality.