

Part II

Make a Preci's

Title: Upholding State Institutions: Pillars of Democracy and Progress

By upholding justice, safeguarding individual rights and ensuring legal system, the institution of judiciary holds significance importance among various other branches of government. Moreover, it requires acknowledgement by public and leaders to function effectively. Furthermore, the second branch of government i.e. legislation needs the same respect due to its critical function of making laws through consultation and inclusive decision making, thus, acting as a guardian of democracy. Similarly, the third branch of government i.e. executive holds equal importance due to its role in enforcing laws in just manner. However, to acquire public trust, these institutions need to carry out their functions by upholding the principles of transparency and accountability. Hence, by advocating and respecting their functions, a nation can ensure prosperity, unity and progress.

Word count — 115/323

Comprehension

a - Why is Hirodo considered as a symbol of strength and loyalty?

Hirodo is considered as a symbol of strength and loyalty because during World War II, he and his comrades, steadfast in the mission, continued to fight for their country against Philippines government. Despite multiple efforts to inform them about the ending war, they stood steadfast, posing a threat to Philippines.

b - In what location was Onoda sent with orders during World War II, and what were the specific instructions?

During World War II, Onoda was sent to Lubang Island in Philippines with specific instructions to disrupt enemy operations and engage in guerrilla warfare.

c - Why did Onoda and his unit remain isolated and unaware of Japan's surrender in 1945?

Despite multiple efforts and attempts were made to contact and inform Onoda and his men about the war's end, they remained isolated and unaware of Japan's surrender in 1945 because they believed such efforts were enemy tricks to stop them from their fight. They chose to stay persistent and hold grounds against their enemies.

4. What efforts were made over the years to contact and inform Onoda and his men about the end of war, and why were these attempts unsuccessful?

Leaflets were dropped, messages were broadcasted by the Philippines government to contact and inform Onoda and his men about the end of war but these attempts were unsuccessful because Onoda considered it as a trap from enemies and chose to hold steadfast against the enemy.

5. How did Norio Suzuki become involved in Onoda's story, and what challenges did he face in convincing Onoda that war has ended.

Norio Suzuki, a young adventurer, became involved in Onoda's story because he was given a mission to find Onoda, however and to convince him that war was over. However, he faced significant challenges because Onoda was much dedicated and not ready to give up and sought confirmation from high ranking officials.

Q4- Correction

a- Hassan Ali Ghandal would rather stay at home than go to the polling station.

b- Advocate Malik Huzafa always looks for inspiration, but none ever comes.

c- They had a wonderful time, and luckily none were injured.

d- If there were no bad people, there would be no good lawyers.

e- I wish I could back to earlier times.

f- Not only did Sir Majid grill a steak for Sir Azhar, but he also cooked biryani for Sir Shahab.

g- Tahir sab performed well; it was a magnificent and beautiful performance.

h- I wasn't satisfied with the education I received from my university, so I took admission at N'OA.

Q 6 - Idioms

c- Burning the midnight oil

Abida has burnt midnight oil to pass her CSS exams.

e- Crocodile tears

During funeral of her grandmother, she was trying to seek sympathy by showing her crocodile tears.

c- Bite off more than one can chew

By taking all projects simultaneously, Abida bit off more than she could chew.

b- Skeleton in the closet

The family wanted to keep their financial struggles as a skeleton in the closet but it eventually became known to everyone.

i- To have chip on one's shoulder

Abida always tried to keep a chip on her shoulder, making it impossible for others to approach her.

b- Paint the town red

The king wanted to paint the town red on his son's birthday.

5B - Preposition

a - besides me during the movie

b - over the table

c - through the bridge

d - Under the bed

e - on the shelf

f - In the park

g - over the clouds

h - i -

5A - Punctuation

Bill Clinton walked into a Karachi restaurant, and asked the waiter, "Do you have biryani?" The waiter grinned, "Of course, Sir. Our biryani is so good it'll make you forget your name!"

Bill laughed, "I hope not! I need that for Imran!"

Later, during a power outage, Imran quipped,

"In Pakistan, we don't need candles; our biryani alone can light up the room!" Bill replied,

"True, and if you add some spicy chutney,

we might even have a disco party!"

They both chuckled, realizing that in Pakistan, humor and hospitality go hand in hand, making every meal an unforgettable experience.

07. Translation

In the next three years all the degrees will become useless. The pace of technology and the desire to get benefit from it is getting so eager that our <sup>old</sup> knowledge and sources of knowledge even the subjects, everything is getting useless. When every kind of information becomes available on the screen of small sized cell phones, then skills dominate over education and actions dominate over thought patterns. Now the fears are profound that in coming days how would story tellers unite - their audiences and how the teachers would teach those students who are used to getting information from internet about the principles of universe.

Narrations:

Narrations

Heer asked Ranjha where he had been and expressed how much she had missed him. Ranjha replied that he had to travel <sup>but</sup> assured her that his heart never left her. Ranjha then asked her how she had been. Heer replied she was lonely without him and asked him about his journey. Ranjha replied that it was quest for self-discovery and that he had wandered through valleys and crossed rivers but his thoughts were always with her. Heer then asked what had he learned on his journey. Ranjha replied that he had learned the value of struggle and strength it gives. Heer told him that she had been counting days until he would return. Ranjha replied and he had been counting the moments until he could succeed in his final trial. Heer asked him not to dwell on the time apart and assured him that we are together now and that's all that mattered. Ranjha responded that the exams were near so he had to leave. But his success would conquer distance and time.