

Q#4

- 1) Hassan Ali Gendal would rather stay at home or going to polling station
- 2) Advocate Malik Huzafa always looks for inspiration. None ever comes
- 3) I wish I can go back to early times
- 4) Tahir's performance was well; it was a magnificent and beautiful performance
- 10) I wasn't satisfied with education I received from my university, so I had taken admission to NOA.

Q#5

Bill Clinton walked into a Karachi restaurant and asked the waiter, "do you have biryani?" The waiter grinned, "of course, sir! Our biryani is so good it'll make you forget your own name!" Bill laughed, "I hope not! I need that for the Imran!" Later, during a power outage, Imran quipped, "in Pakistan, we don't need candles; our

“biryani alone can light up the room!”
Bill replied, “True, and if you add some spicy chutney, we might even have a disco party!” They both chuckled, realizing that in Pakistan, humor and hospitality go hand in hand, making every meal an unforgettable experience.

(B)

- i) My brother sat beside me during the movie and shared his popcorn.
- ii) We walked over the bridge to reach the other side of the river.
- iv) He hid the gift under the bed to surprise his sister later.
- v) The book is on the shelf, right next to the encyclopedia.
- vi) The kids played in the park until the sun went down.

Q#6

(a)

Political instability in Pakistan is an elephant in the room which hinders the economic growth.

(d)

Do not build castles in air and work hard to pass this examination.

(e)

~~At~~ At his father's death, he was shedding the crocodile tears.

(c)

He was burning the midnight oil to pass CSS examination.

(B)

Heer asked Ranjha, where he had been. She have missed him so much.

Ranjha replied to Heer that he had to travel, but his heart never left her.

Heer said that she was lonely without him and asked about his journey.

He said that it was his self-discovery.

He wandered through valleys and crossed rivers, but his thoughts were always with her. Her asked about what he learnt on his journey. Ranjha replied, he learned the value of struggle and the strength it gives. Her said that she have been counting the days until his return. Ranjha said that he have been counting the moments until she could succeed in his final trial. Her said not to dwell on the time apart. They ~~had~~ are together now, and that's all that matters. Ranjha said that his exams are near. He have to leave. But his success will conquer distance and time.

Q#7

All the degrees will be fruitless in ^{the} next three years. Our previous information, means of information, even the course and subjects are becoming irrelevant, because of technology and the urge of using it. When all the information comes to the mobile-screen, skill overcomes knowledge and practice gets the preference over thought. The fear is in the air that in coming days, it will be difficult for religious scholars to convince their audience, and for teachers to teach students the principles of universe in a small room, with the advent of technology.

Q#3

(1)

Hideo was considered as a symbol of strength and loyalty. He served his duties for 30 years until he got an official order that the war had ended. He was loyal to his country that he fought for many years without any attempt to leave his duties.

(2)

Onoda was sent to Lubang Island in Philippines. His mission was to let down all the enemy's traps and to participate in guerrilla warfare.

(3)

Onoda and his unit remain isolated and unaware of Japan's surrender in 1945. They were cut off from all the communication sources. They were tangled in the dense jungles without any information or the source of any information.

(4)

Many efforts were made over the years to contact and inform Onoda and his men about the end of war. Many letters and messages were left by Philippine government. These attempts were unsuccessful because soldiers considered them as enemy's tricks to make their mission unsuccessful.

(5)

Norio Suzuki, a young adventurer, went into the jungles of Lubang to find Onoda. He faced many challenges to convince Onoda that the war had ended. He searched his commanding officer to let Onoda go and to free him from his duties.

Q#2

Respect as a Fundamental Element for State Institutions

The institution of judiciary needs respect as it protects the rights of citizens and provides justice to all. Independence of judiciary provides for a just legal system. Similarly, a legislative branch requires respect from citizens as it ensures democracy by participation and contribution. Moreover, the executive branch requires respect and trust from its citizens. Governance improves in a country by transparency and accountability of leaders.

By setting good principles in a country can ensure public trust in political system. A nation grows when people give respect to every institution. As a nation it is necessary to participate in the progress of state institutions.