Question no 2

Three Tiers of Government and their Sanctity

Judiciary is a respectful state institution. It acts as the guardian of justice and rights of the citizens. It interprets laws and settles disputes. Independent judiciary ensures fair legal system. Everyone must respect judiciary's authority. Another branch of government, the legislature, represents the voice of people. Respecting parliamentary institutions and elected representatives lead to fair democracy and quick legislative processes. The executive branch implements laws and policies and requires the utmost respect of the citizens. For progress and sustainable development, it is extremely important for all the branches of state to work together with transparency and accountability. Eventually, the overall governance of the state will improve. Political leaders need to set an example by showing commitment to state and its institutions. The respect of state institutions leads to functioning democracy. As citizens, we must respect state institutions, contribute to their growth and work towards a just, equal and progressive society.

Question 3

Q1: Hiroo is considered a symbol of strength and loyalty due to its discipline and dedication. His steadfastness, resilience and unwavering loyalty to his country earned him immense admiration.

Q2: Onada was sent to Lubang Island in the Philippines with orders to disrupt enemy operations and engage in guerrilla warfare.

Q3. Onoda and his comrades, being steadfast in their mission, remained so immersed in the operation that they remained unaware of Japan's surrender.

Q4. Leaflets were dropped and messages were broadcasted by the Phillipine government to contact and inform Onoda and his men about the end of the war. These attempts were unsuccessful because soldiers thought those were the tricks of the enemies.

Q5. Onoda's extraordinary tale and the consistency of his unit caught the attention of a young adventurer, Nobuo Suzuki. He went on in search of Onoda and, upon finding him, convinced him that the war was over. Onoda was still skeptical and did not believe Suzuki until he managed to get his senior officer.

Ranjha told Heer that he had to travel but his heart never left her. He asked Heer about her well being. Heer told Ranjha that she was lonely without him and asked him about his journey. Ranjha said that it was a quest for self discovery. He wandered through valleys and crossed rivers but his thoughts were always with Heer. Heer asked him what did he learn on his journey. Ranjha told Heer that he learned the value of struggle and the strength it gave. Heer told Ranjha that she had been counting the days until his return. Ranjha told Heer that he had been counting the moments until he could succeed in his final trial. Heer told Ranjha not to dwell on the time apart. They were together then and that was all that mattered.

Ranjha told Heer that the enams were near.

He had to leave. But his success would conquer distance and time.

Question 7

Translation

All degrees are going to be useless in the next three years. The speed of technology and the desire to benefit from it is so much that our previous knowledge, sources of knowledge even syllabus and subjects, all are becoming irrelevant. When every sort of information is available on the phone, which is the size of a palm, then skill overpowers knowledge and action supersedes the thought.
