

Part II

Question No. 2 :

Respecting the state institutions is important to ensure democracy in a state. Generally, judiciary promotes justice and protects rights of citizens. Similarly, legislative branch deals with legislative process and is formed by elected individuals. Additionally, executive enforce laws and policies. If these state institutions work collectively and fairly, governance will also improves. Therefore, individuals must recognize the integrity and independence of these institutions. This responsibility also falls on political leaders as they are the role-model for citizens. They should also keep themselves fair and accountable. Respect of state institution is social and moral obligation as people could play their role in integrating democratic principles for better society and state.

Significance of State Institutions for Ensuring Democracy.

Question No. 3

Q-1

Ans Hiroo is considered a symbol of strength and resilience because he was sent to Philippines for a warfare operation and after a while he lost communication with his unit. He continued his mission for next thirty years without any chain of command in the dense jungles and did not focus on news of Philippine government.

Q-2

Ans Hiroo Onoda was an extraordinary Japanese military officer who was sent to Lubang Island in the Philippine during World War Two. He was given the specific task of disrupting the enemies and engaging in guerilla attacks with enemies.

Q-3

Ans Hiroo Onoda and his comrades were sent to dense forests of Lubang Island in Philippine to distract enemies however, after a while they lost connection with Japanese unit. While Japan surrendered in 1945, they remained isolated as they thought, news of Japanese surrender could be a tactic by their enemies.

Q-4

Ans Over the period of time, many efforts were made to inform Hiroo and his comrades through leaflets as well as through news broadcasted by Philippine government. However, he remain doubtful of these news and continued his mission as he thought it could be a plan of their enemies to ambush them.

Q-5

Ans Norio Suzuki was a young adventure who was given the tasking of finding Onoda. He find the place where Hiroo was residing and informed him about the message however, Onoda did not believe and resultantly, Suzuki had to brought senior military officers for confirmation of message.

Question No. 4

2- Advocate Malik Huzaiya always looks for inspiration. None ever come.

Advocate Malik Huzaiya always looks for an inspiration. None ever come.

3- They had a wonderful time and luckily none was injured.

They had a wonderful time and luckily no one was injured.

4- If there were no bad people, there will be no good lawyers.

If there are no bad people, there will be no good lawyers.

5- I wish I can go back to earlier times.

I wish I could go back to earlier times.

6- Money makes the mere go.

Money make the mere go.

Question No. 5

Part A :

Bill Clinton walked into a Karachi restaurant and asked the waiter, "Do you have Biryani?" The waiter grinned, "Of course sir. Our Biryani is so good that it'll make you forget your own name!" Bill laughed, "I hope not! I need that for Imran."

Later, during a power outage, Imran quipped, "In Pakistan, we don't need candles; our biryani alone can light up the room." Bill replied, "true, and if you add some spicy chutney, we might even have a disco party." They both chuckled, realizing that in Pakistan, humor and hospitality go hand in hand, making every meal as unforgettable experience.

Part B:

- iv. He hid the gift under the bed to surprise his sister later.
- v. The book is on the shelf, right next to encyclopedia.
- i- The My brother sat beside me during the movie and shared his popcorns.
- ii. The cat jumped over the table and knocked over the vase.
- vi- The kids played in the park, until the sun went down.

Question No. 6

Part a:

- c) Burning the midnight oil:
She had to deliver the products by early morning as she completed it by burning midnight oil and slept at 6:00 am.
- d) Castles in the air:
Do not make castles in the air that you could pass CSS exam without studying.

e) Crocodile tears:

Sara manipulates her husband by shedding crocodile tears - plays emotional cards.

j) Bite off more than one can chew.

She took order of making 50 cakes in one hour; she should understand that she has taken a bite off more than she can chew.

i) To have a chip on one's shoulder

He shouted at me, and as he has a chip on his shoulder for not getting admission in college.

Part B:

Heer asked Ranjha that where he had been? She further told him that she had missed him very much.

Ranjha replied Heer that he had to travel, but she never left his heart. He further asked how she had been.

Heer told him that she felt lonely and inquired about his journey.

Ranjha told him that it had been a quest for self-discovery. He had wandered through valleys and had crossed rivers, but his thoughts had been always with her.

Heer asked him what he had learnt on his journey.

Ranjha replied that he had learnt the value of struggle and strength that was given by journey.

Heer told him that she had been counting the days ~~until~~ his return.

Ranjha replied that he had been counting the moments till he could succeed in his final trial.

Heer asked him, "Don't dwell on the time apart. We are together now and that's all that matters."

Ranjha ^{denied} ~~denied~~ by saying that exams were nearby. But his success would conquer distance and time.

Question No. 7

All degrees are likely to be carrying water in sieve within three years. Speed of technology and choice to benefit are very high that our previous information and related sources are getting irrelevant, even when information is available on a packed punch mobile screen. Now, the threat is evident that in the upcoming days how storytellers will address their audience; at the same time, how students, seeking guidance from internet, will be taught universal affairs by their teachers in a congested room.