

All degrees are about to become useless in the next three years. Technology and the desire to take advantage from it, both are advancing at a rapid rate. Our previous information and its means, even our curriculum and subjects, all are becoming irrelevant. When all types of knowledge is available in a phone, the size of one's palm, than skill dominates over knowledges and action takes priority over thoughts. In the upcoming days, it is feared how the story tellers would engage audience in their sermons or how teachers would teach the processes of universe to the students who are simultaneously making use of the internet.

Q. 4

1. Hassan Ali Gondaal would rather stay at home than go to polling station.
2. ~~Not only Sir Majid grilled a steak for Sir Azhar, but also ~~ate~~ cooked~~
4. If there were no bad people, there would be no good lawyers.
8. Not only Sir Majid grilled a steak for Sir Azhar, but also he cooked biryani for Sir Shahab.
5. I wish I could go back to earlier times.
10. I wasn't satisfied with the education I got from university, so I took admission at NOA.

Q.6

A.

- c. He is burning the midnight oil for his startup, he won't fail
- d. Do not trust your uncle's plan, he is in the habit of making castles in the air
- e. She was shedding crocodile tears on her boss' death.
- a. Everyone in the meeting was focused on trivial matters, only I addressed the elephant in the room
- f. Although she is a good student, she is jumping on the bandwagon to become a TikTok influencer.

B

Heer asked Ranjha of his whereabouts. She told him that she'd missed him so much. Ranjha replied that he had to travel but his heart was always with her. He inquired about Heer's wellbeing. She answered that she felt lonely without him. She asked him about his journey and what he learned during it. He replied that it was a quest for self-discovery. He said that he wandered through valleys and crossed rivers, but his thoughts were always with her. He further added that his journey made him learn the value of struggle and strength. Heer told him that she had been

DATE: ___/___/___

Counting days until his return. Ranjha said that he had been counting the moments until he could succeed in his final trial. Heer suggested him to not dwell on the time apart. She said that they were together then and that's all that mattered for her. Ranjha replied in the negative and said that exams were near and he had to leave but his successes would conquer distance and time.

Q.5

A Bill Clinton walked into a Karachi restaurant and asked the waiter, "do you have Biryani?" The waiter grinned, "of course sir. Our Biryani is so good, it'll make you forget your own name!" Bill laughed, "I hope not! I need that for the Imran!" Later, during a power outage, Imran quipped, "In Pakistan, we don't need candles, our Biryani alone can light up the room!" Bill replied, "true, and if you add some spicy chutneys, we might even have a disco party!" They both laughed, realizing that in Pakistan, humor and hospitality go hand in hand, making every meal an unforgettable one.

S - B

i) My brother sat beside me during the movie.

ii) We walked across the bridge to reach the other side of river.

iii) Kids played in the park.

iv) We hid the gift beneath the bed to surprise her.

v) The book is on the shelf.

G. # 3

1. Hideo performed his duty for the state for almost thirty years. He was isolated in a jungle but he did not give up. He remained steadfast to his state. He followed orders of his senior countrymen and did not surrender at the enemy's demand. That is why he is considered a symbol of strength and loyalty.
2. In 1944, Onoda was sent to Lubang Island in the Philippines. He was ordered to disrupt enemy operations and engage in guerrilla warfare. His mission was to operate in the jungle and attack the enemy's forces.
3. Onoda and his comrades were cut off from communication and were isolated in a jungle. Moreover, even when they were informed about the ending of war and Japan's surrender, they believed that it was all a ruse for them to give up.
4. Multiple efforts were made to reach out to Onoda and his team. Leaflets were circulated and messages were broadcasted by the Philippine's government. Over the course of thirty years, multiple attempts were made to communicate with Onoda but he refused to listen to any of them.

5- Norio Suzuki was a young adventurer who wanted to find Onoda. The biggest challenge for him was to convince Onoda of the end of war. For this, Suzuki had to find Onoda's commanding officer, Major Yoshimi Taniguchi. Onoda asked for further confirmation by high ranking officials. Taniguchi personally returned to Japan to deliver the orders after which Onoda believed him.

Title : The Importance of Institutionalism In a State

Judiciary, Executive and Legislature are the three fundamental branches of the state. Legislature frame laws, Executive implement these laws and judiciary interprets them. It is the function of judiciary to uphold rule of law and ensure equality and justice in all matters of the state. An independent and autonomous legal system safeguards the fundamental rights of citizens. Legislature represents the will of people. Parliamentary processes ensure openness, participation, accountability and transparency in the political process. It is essential for the growth of democracy. The executive branch implements laws and policies through administration. The citizens of a state should give these institutions their due respect. Good governance depends on the overall working of these institutions. Political leaders inspire public through their conduct. As government officials, they must deal with the utmost sincerity and integrity. Institutions work collectively for the growth of the nation and development of the state. Citizens should respect and strengthen these institutions.

Words : 135.