

Question no 2

Title:- Respecting state institutions:
a collective responsibility

Respecting state institution is a collective responsibility that forms the basis of an efficient democracy. Judiciary handles the legal mechanism of the state and imparts justice. Similarly, legislation reflects the aspirations of common people and makes laws for them. Executive branch makes policies and implements the laws. The respect of these state institutions must be a top priority. Moreover, political leaders should take a lead by respecting these institutions by their conduct and inspire the masses. Respect for state institutions translates into an efficient and vibrant democracy. Protecting the sanctity of state institution is necessary for building a strong nation and progressive society.

collective efforts are needed to achieve that goal.

Total words: 330

Precis words: 110

Question no 3

(Question no 1)

Hiro is considered as a symbol of strength and loyalty, because of his unwavering commitment to his assigned task. The sheer longevity of his endeavor signifies his strength and loyalty towards his cause.

Question no 2

Onada was sent to Iuhang Island in Philippines with specific instructions to thwart enemy endeavors and to start a low level warfare against them.

Question no 3

Onada and his unit remained isolated and unaware of Japan's surrender in 1945, because they were stranded in a dense jungle and had no communication with the outside world.

Question no 4:

Effort were made over the years by Philippine government to inform Onada about the ending of the war by aerial dropping of messages and promoting the news through media. These efforts were failed, because Onada and his unit ~~they~~ thought they are enemy tactics to thwart his mission.

Question no 5: Suzuki a

Young person reached into the jungles of Lubang to bring Onad back home by informing him about the current scenario.

Suzuki's efforts failed in the face of Onada's skepticism and suspicion. He even found ~~the~~ Onada's superior officer to return help him bring Onada back home.

(Question no 4)

- (4) If there were no bad people, there would have been no good lawyers.
- (8) Not only Sir Majid grilled a ~~steak~~ ~~steak~~ steak for Sir Azhar, he also cooked biryani for Sir Shahab.
- (1) Hassan Ali Gondal would rather stay at home than go to polling station.
- (5) I wish I could go back to earlier times
- (3) They had a wonderful and luckily no one was injured.

(Question no 5)

(A)

Bill Clinton walked into Karachi restaurant and asked the waiter; do you have biryani? The waiter grinned, of course, Sir; our biryani is so good, it will make you forget your own name. Bill laughed, I hope not, I need that for Imran. Later during a power outage, Imran quipped, in Pakistan we do not need candles; our biryani alone can light up the room. Bill replied, true and if you add some spicy chutney, we might even have a disco party. They both chuckled, realizing that in Pakistan, humor and hospitality go hand in hand, making every meal an unforgettable experience.

Q#5
(B)

- (i) beside
- (ii) on
- (iii) over
- (iv) under
- (u) over

Question no 6

(A) Elephant in the room

(The obvious problem no one wants to talk about)

We have to address the elephant in the room for making improvement

(D) castles in the air (Wishful thinking)

We have to stop building castles in the ~~air~~ air and start doing smart practical work

(H) Skeleton in the closet
(Holding a secret)

Ali is unhappy because he has many skeletons in the closet.

(F) Jump on the bandwagon
(Follow the trend)

Many politicians are jumping on the bandwagon by joining the new established party.

(I) To have a chip on one's shoulder

(Being ~~stepping~~ to hold a grudge)

Kaveem's mood is off because he is carrying a chip on his shoulder.

Question no 7

In next three years all the degrees are becoming useless.

Our old information, their resources, along with the syllabus are becoming obsolete

in the face of technological advancement and ^{our} ambitions of those who are exploiting ~~the~~ exploiting it. If information becomes available on a tiny phone, then skill will take over knowledge and action will supersede the imagination. Now it is becoming increasingly impossible for orators to catch the attention of their audience and for the educators to teach their internet based using student about the mechanics of universe.