

Precis

Title :- The Respect of State Pillars OR The Significance of state institutions

The Respect of state institutions is reflection of a functioning democracy. Judiciary acts as an authority upholding the principles of Justice and equality. It is important to ensure an unbiased legal system. Similarly, legislative branch represent the voice of people; respecting Parliamentary institutions is crucial for vibrant democracy. The executive branch responsible for implementing laws and policies require respect by citizens for effective-ensurance of its duties. Citizen and Political leaders show respect to the state institutions for transparent governance, ethical decision-making and accountability so that progress prevails.

Comprehension :

Ans # 1

During WWII, Hiro Onoda, a Japanese intelligence officer was sent to Lubang Island in Philippines, his unit lost communication after which the war ended and Japan surrendered but Onoda remains steadfast in his mission and continued to operate his mission. Despite the changing world order, his resilience and unwavering loyalty made him a symbol of strength and loyalty.

Ans# 2

Onoda was sent to Lubang Island in Philippines with orders to disrupt enemy operations and engage in guerrilla warfare.

Ans # 3

Onoda and his comrades (unit) were cut off from communication, although leaflets were dropped, msgz were broadcasted by the govt. but they believed such attempts to be enemy's tricks.

Ans # 4

After losing communication, Onoda and his unit ~~found~~ found the leaflets which were dropped by Philippines government as an enemy's trick. several other attempts were made to contact them about the war end but it failed. After meeting his commanding officer, Major Yoshimi's order, Onoda was hesitant to lay down arms.

Ans # 5 ,

Norio Suzuki, a young adventurer's mission was to find Onada and tell him about the war's end. He was persistent in convincing Onada even he find his commanding officer to relieve Onada of his duties officially.

PREPOSITIONS

1. My brother sat besides me during the movie and shared his popcorn.
2. He hid the gift under the bed to surprise his sister later.
3. The book is on the shelf, right next to the encyclopedia.
4. The plane flew over the clouds, offering a breathtaking view.
5. The kids played in the park until the sun went down.

IDIOMS

- He is the elephant in the room
- Ali is burning the midnight oil to clear the CSS exam.
- Amna shed crocodile tears after meeting Sara.
- Asad was building castles in the air, when we met.
- It's my birthday let's go out and paint the town red.
- She has had a chip on her shoulder ever since her proposal was rejected.

SENTENCE CORRECTIONS

1. Hassan Ali Gondal would stay at home rather than going to polling station.
2. I wish I could go back to earlier times.
3. Money makes the more go.
4. Talwar saab performed well; it was a magnificent performance.
5. I wasn't satisfied with my university education, so I took admission in Noida.

PUNCTUATIONS

Bill Clinton walked into a Karachi restaurant and asked the waiter, "Do you have Biryani?"

The waiter grinned, "Of course, Sir. Our Biryani is so good it'll make you forget your own name!"

Bill laughed, "I hope not! I need that for the Imran!"

(Later) During a power outage, Imran quipped, "In Pakistan, we don't need candles; our Biryani alone can light up the room!"

Bill replied, "True, and if you add some spicy chutney, we might even have a disco party!"

(They both chuckled, realizing that in Pakistan, humor and hospitality go hand in hand, making every meal an unforgettable experience.)

Translation

All degrees will be of no use in the coming three years. The fastest growing Technology and the desire of its usage can substitute our previous knowledge, means of information even the curriculum and subjects, everything is losing its importance, when every information is available on the phone screens than skills get an upperhand over knowledge and actions surpasses thoughts. Its a future challenge for the storytellers and teachers to teach students who can use internet for everything.

Direct / Indirect

"Where were you, I missed you Rauiha" asked Heer.

"I had to travel but my heart never left you How are you" replied Rauiha.

"I was lonely without you, tell me about your journey" Heer asked.

He went on a quest of self discovery wandering through valleys and rivers but his thoughts were always with Heer.

"What had you learn" asked Heer.

He learned the value of strength and struggle.

Heer was counting days of Rauiha's return while Rauiha was counting days to get his final trial.

Heer said that they will never get apart as they're together which matters the most.

Rauiha replied that his exams are near and he has to leave and his success will conquer time & distance.