

English Preci & Composition

QNO: 2

Respect for state institutions lead to progress

State institutions demand respect. One of such institution is -the judiciary - guardian of justice and human rights. An independent judiciary ensures a just legal system. which ~~mus~~ people must acknowledge. Another institution is -the legislature which represents democracy. Parliamentary debates and procedures contribute to effective legislation, and reinforces democratic ideals. Third institution is -the executive -that implements -the laws. Citizens must trust -the officials to carry out their duties responsibly. These state institutions work together to improve governare -that leads to sustainable progress. Citizens and leaders should respect -these institutions where -the latter must commit to its values. Transparency and accountability inspires public confidence in state institution which is eort-the cornerstone of -functioning democracy. Also, It is -the democratic values ^{that} makes a nation resilient.

So, citizens must contribute towards democratic principles for ^{national} progress.

QNO: 3

1) Why is Hiroo considered as a symbol of strength and loyalty?

Hiroo Onoda continued his mission for three decades after the end of WWII, and did not accept defeat. His story made him a symbol of strength and loyalty. Hiroo was doing his mission in jungle when Japan surrendered. As he was He did not believe the Philippine war has ended and he bravely continued his mission for three decades. This showed his extraordinary resilience and loyalty to his nation.

2) In what location was Onoda sent with orders during WWII, and what were his specific instructions.

Onoda was sent to Philippines to disrupt enemy operations and to start guerrilla warfare against the enemy. He was a Japanese intelligence officer who was sent to Lubang Island of Philippines. His mission was to impede Philippines war tactics through guerrilla warfare. He was to secretly conduct his operation in a dense jungle of Philippines. So, he continued his covert operation in the remote jungle of Philippines.

3) Why did Onoda and his unit remain isolated and unaware of Japan's surrender in 1945?

Onoda and his unit was aware conducting their covert operation in a remote jungle where they were cut off from communication. As the communication was cut off, they were isolated from the world. They did not know that Japan had surrendered and the war was over. Since, it was difficult to communicate with them in dense jungle, they remained cut off and isolated from the world.

4) What efforts were made over the years to contact and inform Onoda and his men about the end of the war, and why were these attempts unsuccessful?

Efforts

Japan and Philippine's government sent messages and leaflets to inform Onoda and his men to inform them about conclusion of war, but Onoda believed that it was enemy propaganda and refused to lay down arms. No one could find Onoda and his men in the dense jungle to directly communicate them about the end of war. However, messages and leaflets were dropped. Onoda considered them enemy tricks and continued his mission. That is why the attempts of persuading him remained unsuccessful.

5) How did Norio Suzuki become involved in Onoda's story, and what challenges did he face in convincing Onoda to believe that the war had ended?

When Onoda's story gained attention, Norio Suzuki made it his mission to find him and eventually found him. Norio Suzuki was a young traveller who went on a mission to find Onoda. He found him and persistently convinced Onoda about the end of war. He further ~~found~~ ^{had to find} Onoda's commanding officer, Taniguchi, who could convince Onoda to lay down his arms. It was difficult to convince Onoda as he had been loyally carrying out his mission for thirty-years.

QNO: 4

1. Hassan Ali Gondaal would rather stay at home than going to polling station.

Hassan Ali Gondaal would rather stay at home than go to the polling station.

5. I wish I can go back to earlier times

I wish I could go back to earlier times.

8. Not only Sir Majid grill a steak for Sir Azhar, but he also cooked biryani for Sir Shahab. a
Not only ^{did} Sir Majid grilled a steak for Sir

Azhar, but he ~~also~~ ^{also} cooked biryani for Sir Shahab!

6. Money makes the mere go.
Money makes the mare go.

9. Tahir sab performed well; it was a magnificent beautiful performance.

Tahir sab performed well; it was a magnificent and a beautiful performance.

QNO: 5
(CA)

Bill Clinton walked into a Karachi restaurant, and asked the waiter, "Do you have biryani?" The waiter grinned, "Of course, Sir. Our biryani is so good, it'll make you forget your own name!" Bill laughed, "I hope not! I need that for Imran." Later, during a power outage, Imran quipped, "In Pakistan, we don't need candles; our biryani alone can light up the room!" Bill replied, "True, and if you add some spicy chutney, we might even have a disco party!" They both chuckled, realizing that in Pakistan, humor and hospitality go hand in hand, making every meal an unforgettable experience.

B

- ii. The cat jumped onto the table and knocked over the vase.
- iii. We walked ~~over~~ ^{across} the bridge to reach the other side of the river.
- iv. He hid the gift under the bed to surprise his sister later.
- vi. The kids played in the park until the sun went down.
- vii. The plane flew above the clouds, offering a breathtaking view.

Q No: 6

a) Elephant in the room .

The politicians ~~do~~ argued on every topic ~~retal~~ due to personal grudges, but ignored the elephant in the room - cost of living crisis.

c) Burning the midnight oil

Ali wasted the entire week and is now burning the midnight ~~to~~ oil to complete his assignment which is due tomorrow.

d) Castles in the air

The delegation rejected his proposal for being unrealistic, and told him to stop building castles in the air and to make a feasible plan.

e) Crocodile tears

Israelis are shedding crocodile tears for being the victim of wars, but in reality are the real perpetrators of violence.

g) Paint the town red

After successfully completing submitting her research work, Sara got ready to paint the town red.

B

Heer asked Ranjha where he had been and that she missed him so much. Ranjha replied that he had to travel, but his heart never left her and worryingly asked her how had she been. Heer sadly told him that she was lonely without him and asked about his journey. Ranjha told her that he was on a quest to self-discovery, and wandered through valleys, crossed rivers, but his thoughts were always with her. Heer asked curiously, what did he learn on his journey. Ranjha replied that he learned the value of struggle and its strength. Heer told him that she had been counting days until his return.

Ranjan told her that he had been counting the moments until he could succeed in his final trial. Heer told him not to dwell on the time apart. They ^{were} together now and that was all that mattered. Ranjan disagreed and said that the exams were near and he had to leave, but his success will conquer distance and time.

Q NO: 7

All degrees are going to be useless in the next three years. The pace of technology and the wish to benefit from it is so fast that our past data, sources of information including syllabus and subjects are becoming irrelevant. With every type of information converging on a hand-held device, skills dominate knowledge and action takes precedence over thought. Now there is a concern that in the upcoming days how will the politicians convince their audience, and how teachers will explain plethora of knowledge to internet using students in a small classroom.