

2,

Title: Significance of state institutions.

The judiciary demands respect in order to perform. The ultimate purpose of this institute is to make laws, remove the disputes among peoples and provide rights to the citizen. It is obliged on the citizen to respect them. On the other hand, the parliament chooses the people. The open debates, constructive dialogue and obligat^x respect between the citizen and leader are the prerequisites of a strong legislative process of parliament. In the similar way, an executive branch of state performs to inter implement laws. When all the institutions of a state perform functions according to their principles and values, a nation paves a way toward sustainable development and progress. The respect of state institutions are the important element of a functional democracy. In a nutshell, it is our responsibility that uphold the rule of law, principles of justice, equality and progress prevails at the residence society of a nation.

QUESTION NO 5

(B) (i) My brother sat with me during the movie and shared his popcorn.

(ii) The book is lying on the shelf, right next to encyclopedia.

(iii) The cat jumped onto the table and knocked over the vase.

(iv) The kid played at the park until the sun went down.

(v) The plane flew over the clouds, offering a breath taking view.

Question no 6

a) Elephant in the room, Current deficit is a elephant in the room in Pakistan.

b) Crocodile tears, To get the global hegemony in the global arena is possible within crocodile tears.

c) Bite off more than one can chew, A sustainable development is bite off more than one can chew in a case of populism.

d) Throw in the towel, The economy problems were threw in the towel.

e) Castles in the air, An inclination of peace subject is the castle in the air in the education sector.

(B) ANSWER (Narration)

Heer asked Ranjha, "Where she had been that he had missed ~~him~~^{him} so much. Ranjha replied that he had to travel, Heer, but my heart never left you how he had been. Heer replied "lonely without you. Tell me about your journey." Ranjha replied that it had been a quest for self discovery. I wandered through valleys and crossed rivers, but my thoughts had been always with you. Heer replied "what he had been learned on your journey." Ranjha replied that he had been learned the value of struggle and strength it gave. Heer replied that he had been counted the days until your return. Ranjha replied "and I had been counting the moments until he could succeed in my final trial." Heer replied that they did not dwell on the time apart. We were together then, and that is all that matters. Ranjha replied "farewell the exams were near. He had to leave. But my success would conquer distance and time."

Q: 7

All the degrees will be useless next three years in the future. Within the emerging technology, all the knowledge that we get from books are worthless. When, all the informations are providing under the control of mobile, so, skill replaces the knowledge and actions replaces the thought. We are in a danger condition; that how the speaker will collect the people under pulpit to address them. And, it is a very red alarm for the teachers that how they teaches a beautiful miracles of nature in the small room.