Q3) Passage:-

Answer 1:- Hiroo is considered as a symbol of strength and loyalty because of his unwavering passion to fight for his country's protection. He spent the better half of his life in a state of war just because he was loyal and cautious in regards of his protecting his country. He faithfully followed orders for 30 years.

Answer 2: Onoda was sent to Lubang Island in the Philippines with orders to disrupt enemy operations and engage in guerrilla warfare.

Answer 3: As the tides of war turned against Japan, Onoda's unit found themselves isolated and cut off from communication. There was no way to communicate with him initially and the attempts made later were perceived as the enemy's trick to lure them out.

Answer 4: When the war had ended, Onoda's unit was unaware of it due to disruption of communication. Attempts were made to contact them. These attempts included messages broadcasted by the Philippine government. Leaflets were dropped as a means to make them aware of the situation. These attempts were unsuccessful due to the skepticism of Onoda and his unit; who assumed that there were the enemy's tricks to lure them out.

Answer 5: Norio Suzuki was a young adventurer who ventured into the jungles of Lubang with a mission to find Lieutenant Onoda.

He came across Onoda's hiding spot and convinced Onoda about the war ending.

Onoda was cautious and suspicious. Suzuki managed to find Onoda's former commanding officer, Major Yoshimi Taniguchi who flew to Lubang to relieve Onoda of his duties. Suzuki had played a major part in Onoda's retrieval.

Heer asked Ranjha where he had been. She had missed him so much. Ranjha said that he had to travel but his heart had never left Heer. He asked how she had been. Heer replied that she was lonely without him and asked him to tell her about his journey. Ranjha said that it was a quest of self-discovery. He had wandered through valleys and crossed rivers, but his thoughts were always with Heer. She asked what he had learned from his journey. He said that he learned the value of struggle and the strength it gives.

Heer said that she had been counting days until his return and Ranjha said that he had been counting the moments until he could succeed in his final trial. Heer suggested to not dwell on the time apart, as they were together now and that's all that mattered. Ranjha disagreed and said that the exams were near and he had to leave, but his success would conquer distance and time.

Q7. Translation

Every degree would become useless in the next three years. The growth and use of technology is increasing so quickly that our knowledge, and source of knowledge, and even syllabus and subjects are becoming irrelevant. When all information is present on the screen of the phone that fits in the palm of our hands, it would be superior to any knowledge and the process of thinking would degrade. Now the concern is that in the coming days how would the teachers unite students in a small room. How would they teach them the secrets of the universe?
