Therefore, creativity helps a human soul to express in better way as it enables a human soul to think clearly which helps a human soul to express in better way, through creativity one can develop new skills, and can solve different problems which can help a human soul in expression.

However, creativity comes with its own drawbacks that be in expressing a human soul as it is a means of exploitation of a human soul, makes a human soul prideful and egoistic and rises a nature of greediness of making money in human soul. Thus, we can say that creativity is the expression of the human soul, however, it comes with its own drawbacks as well.

Creativity is something which correlates with the expression of the human soul as it makes an individual unique in himself. It is the essence of human soul. Not only this, but creativity is a gift for a human soul engraved in human nature and which ultimately makes a human soul superior of all beings. Thus, we can say that creativity is an effective means in the expression of human soul.

Creativity is the expression of human soul because it enables an individual to think critically. Critical ability is something that holds an individual's mindset and style of living. Through critical thinking a human soul is able to make proper and better decisions in every sphere of life as authors and writers are one of the finest example of this concept. Authors keenly uses their ability of critical thinking which enables them to express their inner soul profoundly.

Moreover, Creativity is the expression of human soul as through creativity human soul is able to express emotions and experiences. Usually, writers possess this capability and they know how to use this talent in writings. Through creativity writers pour in their emotions and grants a new life to their experiences as they like to share their various experiences through creative writings.

In addition, Creativity is an personal expression of human soul as every individual differ in nature. Not only in nature but also in interests. Thus, we can say it is a personal choice of human soul that varies from person to person. Some like to be creative in science, astrology, medicine, while some like to be creative in life in general.

creativity is an ultimate source of discovery and innovation.

we have remarkable examples in history if we talk about creativity.
