

Human rights are the first casualty in any conflict.

Outline:

1. Introduction:

Thesis Statement:

In any conflict, Human rights are often the first and mostly impacted, as the chaos of war prioritize winning over the dignity of humans; to prevent this special efforts must be put forward to regulate the role of law and accountability during the war.

2. Overview of ^{how} human rights compromise during conflicts

3. Human rights are the first casualty in any conflict (Thesis)

a. High casualty ^{rates} among non combatants

b. Frequent violation of international laws

c. Breakdown of healthcare, sanitation and food supply systems.

d. Widespread physiological trauma and lack of mental health resources.

e. Damaged infrastructure leading to inadequate medical care and spread of diseases.

4. Human rights are not the only casualty in any conflict (Antithesis)

a. High protocol and safety measures are now taking place which significantly reduced civilian casualty

b. Rapid re-establishment of legal systems post-conflict

c. Establishment of new effective health-care and emergency system

d. Enhanced focus on mental health and support in response to conflict

e. Funds and support for renovation of damage infrastructure and diseases combatment.

5. Despite efforts, Human rights are still violated during crisis (Synthesis)

- a. Non-combatants casualty is still at peak during conflicts
- b. Significant violation of legal system and laws despite enforcement
- c. Not ^{all} only countries have re-establish their health care system
- d. Mental health has not been prioritise ~~during~~ ^{post} all conflicts
- e. Funds are not been allocated for all the necessary infrastructure renovation