

Human rights are the first casualty in any conflict.

1) Introduction.

Their statement: In any conflict, first violation is always the violation of human rights. Sometime these violations are to solve the problem for once and for all. But instead of using violent approaches, one should strive for more peaceful and cooperative way for solution of conflict to minimize the threat of violation of human rights.

2) Violations of human rights in conflicts.

3) First casualty in any conflict is always human right. (Thesis)

- Economic rights result in increase of inflation and poverty rate which deprive common man from it's basic needs.

- Escalation of wars result in leads toward mass killing of civilians.

→ Territorial disputes cause forced displacement of people from their land.

→ Religious conflicts usually violates the religious rights of minority.

↳ Conflicts strengthen the protection of human rights. (anti-thesis)

- Economic competitions boost up the economies which produce more opportunities for people.
- Wars usually end with permanent solutions which results in long term peace.
- Displacement from area of conflict saves human lives.
- Deprivation of religious rights make people close to their religions and instead of just inheriting they try to understand it.

↳ Instead of violent approach, cooperation and peace should be promoted.

↳ Instead of competitions, cooperation will be more beneficial for people and will ^{expand} increase the global market.

- Wars should be replaced with peace agreements to protect the civilians.

- Instead of displacement, agreements should be made for peaceful existence of all communities in one land.

- Instead of disrespecting each other religious beliefs, mutual respect will bring harmony among people.

↳ Conclusion.

"All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights. They are endowed with reason and conscience and should act towards one another in a spirit of brotherhood." This is the Preamble of United Nations Charter, Article

Along with this, many these are many other charters and articles on human rights but, unfortunatly they are the most violated rights as in the world, ^{every} whenever,

In any conflict first violation is always the violation of human rights. Sometimes these violations are to solve the problem for one and for all. But instead of using violent approaches, one should use more peaceful and cooperative ways to solution of conflict to minimize the threat of human rights violation.

a conflict escalates, the first violation is always related to human rights.

Economic conflict deprive humans from their basic needs. Wars and displacement results in killing and displacement of civilians. Religious disputes result in violation of religious rights.

Mostly people argue that these are for long term peace and more opportunities. This is not the case.

violation is always violation. So such approaches should be encouraged which includes peace and cooperation. Instead of economic rights, economic cooperation should be encouraged. Similarly instead of wars and displacements, agreement should be preferred. Religious tolerance should be promoted.

Historically, humans have suppressed a lot in all kinds of catastrophes. Although in world, there are many revolutions and organisations to protect human rights but they are just useful to a certain extent. Unfortunately, some are not even useful. There are revolutions are just the piece of paper which are unable to stop exploitation of humans. Origins of problems doesn't matter, the only thing which matters is how many people are suffering due to it. Those days are gone when nature was more obstructive. Now a days, man has made destruction for himself. Now a days, people starts the disputes and then will or displace other people for their own benefits. B.F. Skinner

"Problem is not that whether machines think, but whether men
do."

Economic growth is growing among countries. There is the rate of inflation and poverty.
This results in human deprivation or basic needs. Large economies of world are in trade war to create their hegemony in world but this is leading toward destruction of global economy. US-China trade war has itself results on roughly $450 billion and market of turning point in globalization era.
This has huge implications on economies of developing countries like Pakistan which are big importers. This in turn will impact the poor people of those nations. They are already heading away from a healthy legal style but this will deprive them from fulfilling their basic needs.
Establishment of mass welfare leads toward mass lifting of civilians

Wars usually escalate due to serious disputes among states as inside state. Due to advancement in technologies, wars are not only among militaries. Wars with advanced weapons cause massive destruction on infrastructure level as well as for humanity. According to U.S officials, around 500,000 deaths and injuries are observed in Russia-Ukraine war.

This is the violation of human rights. Civilians who are not involved in these conflicts suffer because of government powers and technological advancements. This is the violation of their basic right of "protection of life".

Territorial disputes are another source of human rights violation. Whenever, a territory is disputed, mostly people are displaced forcibly from their homeland which is hard for people emotionally as financially. According to UN, around 2.3 million people are displaced in Gaza during ongoing war. This is hard for people who are migrating to leave their homes along with kids and families.

well as it is even more hard to accommodate them. After accommodating the next hard task will be feeding them and fulfilling their basic needs which will be far more difficult. In this situation, they will not be even receiving their basic rights which are necessary to survive.

When different religious communities live together, different conflicts arise. Usually the religious minorities suffer due to these conflicts. The biggest example of these conflicts is Muslims living in west. Islamophobia is on its peak due to in west which leads towards strict policies against muslim. Common example is "Ban on Nigab" in France. Recently there was another incident of burning the Quran in Sweden. These are the clear violation of religious as well as minority rights. It is the basic right of human to practice its belief and his religious sentiments should be respected. But like other conflicts, rights are against the casualty of the Conflict.

Many people argue against this. That these are for solutions of conflict. Economic competitions boost up economies. These two rival economies support each other in order to make alliances
in order to make alliances for each other. Whatever is the cause of economic support is but it is benefited for developing nation!

As these nations are suffering due their weak economy or weak infrastructure, they can improve with the help of evolving economies.

Wars usually brings long term peace. Wars mostly happens when conflict is on it's peak and states found no other way of solution so it happens. Example is 1971 war between East Pakistan and West Pakistan. War ended with two independent states. One is Pakistan and other is Bangladesh. Before was both were in different smaller disputes but was ~~not~~ happened and solved the disputes permanently.
