

Date: _____

SAMAN AROOT

Question # 1

I- INTRODUCTION

The evolution and growth of Muslim society in the Indian Subcontinent were shaped by a multitude of factors, spanning centuries of history. From the arrival of Islam in the region to the establishment of Muslim empires with trade and education are key factors have significantly influenced the development of Muslim society in this diverse region.

"British archaeologist, Mortimer Wheeler writes in "The Indus Civilization" that Pakistan has a history that can be dated back to the Indus valley civilization?"

II. FACTORS LEAD TO EVOLUTION AND GROWTH OF MUSLIM SOCIETY IN THE SUB-CONTINENT

a. The Advent and Spread of Islam in the Indian Subcontinent

The initial spread of Islam in the Indian subcontinent was facilitated by conquests and migrations. Arab traders and conquerors introduced Islam in subcontinent. Sufism played a crucial role in the spread of Islam. Arabs after embracing Islam carried their new religion to the shores of India.

"The first mosque of India, the Cheraman Juma Masjid, was built in 629 AD in Kerala, by the first Muslim from India, Cheraman Perumal Bhaskara Ravi Varma".

Date: _____

b- Patronage of Muslim Rulers:

Muslim rulers such as the the Delhi Sultanate and the Mughal Empire, provide patronage to scholars, artists and architects, fostering a vibrant intellectual and cultural milieu. This led to the flourishing of Islamic art, literature and architecture leaving a lasting imprint on the region.

Highlight the references

c- Impact of Islam on Sub-continent:

Islam left profound effects on minds of people of the sub-continent. Islam completely changed the living standard and style of thinking of people. Turks introduced Persian language which intermingled with Arabic and other local

Date: _____

Relate your headings and arguments to the qs statement languages gave birth to several new languages including Urdu.

Though the Muslim society experienced ups and downs throughout the history, yet it yield positive effects on the mind of people at large in Indo-Pak Sub-continent.

d- Role of Trade and Commerce:

In the start of 8th century Arab traders used to come in sub-continent for trading purpose then they preached the knowledge about Islam among the local people of sub-continent, many people accepted Islam after knowing the facts about Islam. Muslim merchants played a significant role in trade, contributing to the economic prosperity of Muslim communities in the region. (Abbas Shemeem Burney, Devotional Practices of Pakistan and India)

Date: _____

What role? Be specific with your headings

e- Role of Language and Education:

Arabic and Persian languages served as mediums of education and administration under Muslim rule. The establishment of madrasas and the translation of Islamic texts into regional languages contributed to the spread of Islamic language knowledge and scholarship.

"The translation efforts of scholars like Siraj-ud-Din Ali Khan Arzu in the Mughal court played a vital role in making classical Arabic and Persian texts accessible to a broader audience in the Indian sub-continent."

f- Syncretism and Cultural Exchange:

The interaction between Muslim and indigenous cultures gave rise to syncretic traditions, blending elements of Islam and local customs and beliefs.

"The architectural styles of monuments like the Qutub Minar in Delhi, which incorporates both Islamic and Hindu motifs, reflect the blending of cultural influences during the medieval period."

CONCLUSION

Short answer. Add more arguments

The evolution and growth of Muslim society in the Indian subcontinent were influenced by a myriad of factors including historical events, religious movements, cultural exchanges and socio-economic dynamics.

Date: _____

OS

Despite challenges and conflicts the enduring legacy of Islam in the region continues to shape its identity and heritage.

A 20 marks answer should have around 15 subheadings and be on 8-9 pages.....