

Q 5 (A)

Bill Clinton walked into a Karachi restaurant, and asked the waiter, do you have biryani? The waiter grinned, of course, sir. Our Biryani is so good, it will make you forget your own name! Bill laughed, I hope not! I need that for the 5th!

Later, during a power outage, Imran quipped in Pakistan, we don't need candles, our biryani alone can light up the room! Bill replied, well, and if you add some spicy chutney, we might even have a disco party! They both chuckled, realizing that in Pakistan, humor and hospitality go hand in hand; making every meal an unforgettable experience.

Title

Respecting state institutions: Upholding Democracy

The judiciary deserves our respect, as it serves as an institution to dispense justice and ensure accountability to the nation.

In the same vein, the legislative branch equally deserves respect, as it respects the diversity and democratic elements of a country. The executive branch, as the bedrock of managerial responsibility for the state, also deserves equal respect.

However, the collective work of the three branches leads to the progress of a state. Political leaders should set an example for citizens. It is imperative to respect institutions to uphold the democratic principles of the state.
