Liberal Feminism

Liberal feminism starts in the beginning beginning when Mary Wollstonecraft wrote the 'A Vindication of Women's Rights' and demanded for the the equal.

Introduction:

Liberal feminism is a type of feminism which demands equal rights to vote, job opportunity, right to divorce, property and right to take children.

On the other hand, Radical feminism considers that patriarchy is the biggest reason for women subjugation. The slogan of radical feminism was "the personal is political".

However, the liberal Feminism is most applicable to Pakistan because our cultural values and religious value supports the Liberal Feminism's values. These areas where women are more oppressed, Liberal feminism demands can address this problem.

Liberal Feminism

Radical Feminism:

i) Liberal Feminism

Radical Feminist

showed all women as a class and ignore the problems of other women, considered that they can compete men with power.

such as black women, creed, social class, nationality

It is better to solve this problem by engaging with men.

ii) Liberal Feminist

Radical Feminists

ignored the patriarchal values system.

did not raise voice for black women.

Liberal Feminism is best applicable to elevate status in Pakistan.

Liberal Feminism is the best applicable approach to elevate the status of women in

_ _ _ but

Pakistan. This is because women do not have access to basic rights in Pakistan. Liberal Feminism's values are more practical in Pakistan. Because most of its demands and rights are more appropriate and more relateable to our cultural and religious values.

Women's right to education.

Women's literacy rate in Pakistan is 51.9% which shows that women do not have equal opportunity to education. Because men literacy rate is 73% according to Economic survey of Pakistan. So Liberal Feminism demands equal to right to education.

Women's right to Job

Women have equal right to get equal job opportunity in Pakistan. The article 25 ensures that there shall be no discrimination on the basis of sex.

_ _ _ 1 _ _ 60

But only 49 percent are doing job in Pak.

Women vote right

More than 12 million girls who are eligible to have CNICs do not have their identity cards. This means that these women would not allow to cast vote. Similarly only 60% women use their vote rights on the election day in Pakistan.

Women in Politics:

In Pakistan, women are not allowed to take part in politics. Only a few women who take part in politics, do not get equal opportunities. They have to bear character assassination and other family problems.

Women equal access to health facilities.

Women do not have equal access to health facilities.

— 1 — 30

According to Economic Survey of Pakistan (2022-2023), 300 women out of 10,000 die due to maternal pregnancy challenges. They die because they do not get medical treatment on time.

Women status in Law

Recently, some laws have passed which allows women for equal status in Pakistan. But the law is not implemented in true manner regarding the women's protection. Women have to face several challenges during the court trials.

These all the above arguments show that Liberal feminism is the most applicable approach in Pakistan. Because women do not have basic and equal rights to education, job opportunities, in politics, equal access to health and equal status in law.

Conclusion:

In conclusion, Liberal Feminism is more related to equal opportunities of both men and women. Radical feminism sees women should not only have equal opportunity in public sphere but also in private sphere. They consider patriarchy is the only cause of women problems. Liberal feminism is most appropriate and applicable approach in Pakistan.

Introduction:

Autonomy vs integration is the most famous debate.

Autonomy approach suggest that gender studies discipline should be autonomous. Because this is the best way to promote the knowledge of gender studies and the gender studies depart will be more powerful in the terms of taking decision.

Integration approach suggests that gender studies should be integrated in every field because this is most suitable to produce those policy makers which ensure gender analysis of development project. There are many department which are facing the challenges of financial resources. But it is considered to apply "Both/and" strategy. Therefore, ~~new~~ gender studies is also studied as a separate and integrated subject. In this way, gender studies knowledge will grow and prevail.

Autonomy Debate in Gender Studies:

The following points are related to and supports the autonomy approach in Gender Studies.

i) Establish independent Department.

Autonomy approach supports that there should be a separate department of gender studies because in this there be knowledge will more produced. Students will research and debate with each which will lead to the development of knowledge. In this gender studies will more evolved.

Best way to produce policy makers.

Autonomy debaters supports that autonomy approach of gender studies will produce policy makers. Autonomy approach will give the students a complete approach to understand the discipline.

e.g: For example, if a student who studies psychology as a separate ^{degree} ~~subject~~, he will more excel in the psychology as compared to those who just study psychology as a one subject in one semester.

Autonomous Dept

Gender Studies Department will be added to take free decision.

Autonomous approach supports that there should be a separate department of Gender Studies.

Because, in this way, department

_ _ _ ba

will be able to take independent decision Department will receive finance as a fund which will be used for further research in this field.

e.g: For example, Computer Science department receives funds which is used for further research and development.

Integration will dilute the knowledge.

There are more chances that integration will dilute this subjects. This subject will lose lose their separate identity.

For example, we can not eliminate the department of political science because its knowledge would be diluted.

So it is better to create a separate department of Gender studies. This is the best way to preserve its knowledge.

Integration debate in Gender Studies.

The following points show that Gender Studies should be integrated in all fields.

i) Integration is the best approach

Integration is the best approach to preserve and develop more knowledge regarding the Gender Studies. Because there are many departments who are facing the problems of finance for their proper functioning.

For example: It is seen observed that usually arts departments face the challenges regarding the affordability of finance.

ii) Integration is the best way to produce policy makers.

Integration is the best way to produce policy makers. This is because, all students would be able to know the problems of different gender sector of our society.

For example:

Integration of gender studies in CSS. In this way, many students study this subject.

In this way they acknowledge the problems of women and other sections of society. There are more chances that when they will make policies, they will try to include all the section in the development projects.

iii) Gender Studies as a separate department will face financial issues.

It has been observed that many departments face the challenges of finance. In this era, many students are more interested in the study of science and Technology.

So departments pay less attention

_ _ _ But

towards Arts departments.

For example: For example,
Arabic department is facing financial issues regarding their proper functioning.

iv) Autonomy is not a good approach.

Those debaters who supports integration of Gender studies, consider that autonomy is not a good approach. Only a few people and student will study this subject. In this way, the purpose of spreading gender equality awareness will compromise.

Solution:

Apply 'Both/And' strategy.

Both/And strategy is applied. A

Now Gender studies is studied both as separated subject and it is also integrated with other fields. It is considered that this is a best approach.

Conclusion:

Autonomy and integration debates shows their own benefits and e-autonomy is more related to create Gender Studies department.

While, integration is related to the inclusion of gender studies in other fields. But 'Both/And' strategy is applied to gain maximum benefits from the knowledge of Gender Studies.

Answer Question no: 5

Introduction:

Dependency Theory which shows that Developed countries rob the resources of poor countries. Modernization theory shows that the developed countries make progress by providing women access to education, health, employment opportunities and many other. So other countries should also follow the model of developed countries. Because in this way, poor countries' societies will be developed. However, by providing equal opportunity to education, job employment, in politics, in governance, in access to finance, the women status can be elevated globally. In this way women would enjoy their status equal to men in the world.

Modernization Theory:

Modernization Theory suggests that the model that developed countries followed; it should also be followed by under developed and developing countries so that they can make progress.

Dependency Theory:

This Theory explains that developed countries rob the under developed countries. Developed and industrialized countries take raw material from poor countries and sell them final product very costly. The under developed countries are further exploited when international financial institutions give them loans on high interest rates. This directly impacts on the life of a common man, women, girls, children etc.

Women Vulnerabilities in the contemporary societies.

The following points show women vulnerabilities in the contemporary societies.

Food insecurity:

In the contemporary societies, access to food has become a major concern. Women and children women are facing the problems of access to food. Floods, drought, and intense rainfall due to climate change is a big problem.

Women representation in world peace:

Women are facing violence in every corner of world. Women are representing almost 50 percent of the world population. But their representation in high level institution such as UN is very few. This is also a big problem for them.

Women access to technology:

The other vulnerability is the women access to technology such as mobile phone, laptops, internet etc. The situation becomes dismal in the under-developed societies.

For example in Pakistan, 3 out of ten women have access to technological devices.

Women access to health facilities

The another vulnerability is women's access to health facilities. Women are suffering in Sudan, Gaza, Ecuador, Africa and in many other countries. Universal access to health is a big problem in this world.

Women access to finance.

It is observed that women have almost no access to finance in under developed countries. Only men is owner of property in poor countries. This situation is also not very good in developed countries

Way forwards to rework women status global.

universal access to quality of education.

SDG4 ensures the quality of education in the world. In this way women would be able to get other opportunities in the world.

Eradicate poverty.

According to the World Bank, almost 70 percent women are poor in the world. By providing finance to women, eradication of poverty is achievable. SDG1 is no poverty.

Women access to Health facilities.

Women do not have adequate access to health facilities worldwide.

Especially in the war zone, where women faces the wrath of opponent without any their fault.

Such as Gaza-Israel conflict.

So ensure universal access to health facilities for women.

Women in Governance.

History is witness to the fact that women are not allowed to participate in high level decision making. Women problems are resolved by men. This is a big enigma. So by increasing women participation in Governance this problem can be resolved.
