

Title: The world is incomplete without Women

Outline

1. Introduction

2. How the world is incomplete without women?

(a) Economic participation of women world is essential for growth.

(b) Political inclusion of women ensures the voices of vulnerable section of society listen to hear.

(c) Social participation of women helps against discriminations and brings equity.

(d) Healthy women brings healthy nations and participates in growth of world.

(e) Women's in judiciary is highly desirable for women related issues.

(f) Women in education gives informed generation and, thereby, ensures civilized society.

(g) Women in health are paramount for women related health issues.

3. Why inclusion of women remain elusive?
(A case study of Pakistan)

(a) Existence of patriarchy has hindered the women economic participation.

(b) Social dogmas has excluded women from societal participation.

(c) Discriminatory behavior with women has faltered towards women political participation.

(d) Poverty and dependency upon male has severely damaged women health.

(e) Stereotypes behavior and cultural barriers have put barrier in front of women education.

4. What are the pragmatic measures to ensure women inclusion to holistic growth?
(A case study of Pakistan)

(a) Ensure women economic participation through constitutional reforms to reduce their dependency.

(b) Political inclusion of women should ensure via election reforms for general elections rather quota.

(c) Educating the masses with the help of NGOs and civil society to remove stigmas.

(d) Education including skill education should be ensured at large level with incentive especially for rural women.

(e) Health facilities to reduce infant and maternal mortality rate with enforcement of health emergency should be incorporated in state policies.

5. Conclusion

Historically, women have remained under discriminations, oppressions and targets of Patriarchy. Women in the current world constitute almost half of the world population. Their inclusion can not be ignored at large. The countries of global South have achieved the equality for women through robust changes, as a result of different feminist movements. Resultantly, they are enjoying better economic progress and prosperity. However, there are some countries, which due to multifaceted problems are facing challenges for their participation. Pakistan is not an exception in this regard where women are not enjoying equality. The importance of their inclusion can be witnessed in the western countries. In west, their economic, social and political participation has given ~~an~~ immense benefits to them. Due to which the health and education of them is not now in compromise situation.

Meanwhile, women in Pakistan are facing issues regarding socio-economic and political inclusion, due to which they are severely suffering for their rights.

Notwithstanding, there are plausible measures available for Pakistan to ensure equity for Pakistani women for economic, social and political progress. These include economic participation through constitutional reforms, political participation through election reforms and removal of social stigmas through the education of populace, which are paramount for Pakistani women. However, if Pakistan continues on the same lines, the specter of collapse looms large.

First and foremost, economic participation of women is essential for growth of the world. As women constitutes almost half of the world population. Their exclusion means the exclusion of half of the labor force. Which can severely damages the growth of overall world. The progress and prosperity in the western countries have become possible with the economic inclusion of women. Which strongly indicates that the economic participation of women is essential feature for growth of world in general and for growth of country in specific.

In the similar manner, political inclusion of women ensures the voices of vulnerable section of society to hear. As democracy speaks for the rights of all the sections of society. Without ignoring them, their concern can be heard and solved easily. The world has inducted women ~~on~~ in the politics and, thereby, has witnessed the growth. e.g. Newzealand P.M, Bangladeshi P.M, etc. So, the growth of these countries flourish because of women participation. This thing helps in empowering women. Thus, women's political inclusion is paramount for the growth of world in general and for the growth of country in specific.

Along the same lines, social participation of women helps against discrimination and brings equity. Women have been facing discrimination for their diverse role. Due to which they have become dependent upon ~~two~~ male partner of the society and ultimately face violence. The laws in west have greatly countered the discriminatory Practices. Which has ensured the participation of women at all level. In this way these countries have experienced progress and prosperity through inclusion of women. Thus, the discriminatory practices hinder the women participation, which can be ensured through laws and implementation of these laws.