Conclusion

"Democracy is government of the people, by the people , and for the people."
(Abraham Lincoln)

The above statement made by the ^{former} US president highlights that democracy stands for welfare of the people. It does not go against their wishes. A democratic system allows people right to vote. They can choose their representatives by exercising this right. They can also contest in polls by themselves. The elected ones are accountable of their actions. They can be dethroned if they fail to deliver. Similarly, in democracy, the masses enjoy fundamental rights.
They can stage protests for enforcement of these rights. Government is bound to respond to the demands of the people.
