Q.2.

Title:- International Law and Sovereignty of the States.

As laws related to individual behaviours are dealt under domestic laws; likewise, laws dealing behaviours of states are dealt under international law. This is not the supreme law of the state but law between the states. Nevertheless, it lacks legality because of the ambiguity of its effective sanctions. International law is a question for sovereign states that is justified with the theory of consent which allows states either to accept or reject the law. Some people are of the view that, lawyers if given chance could draft such legal character of international law that would ensure peace on earth; while others consider it a shame. However, both views do not determine the nature of international law integrated with sovereign states.

Question 7

Rise and fall is the story of every nation but sense of loss and national pride are important for this. After second world war, Japan was in severe trials. Destruction of atom bomb had already destroyed two cities; but, for Japanese, humiliation of King was a bigger tragedy. Along with this, dehumanized attitude that General MacArthur adopted towards King ignited the spark of retaliation in Japanese. No matter if not in battle field, Japanese ^{started} Japan defeating USA in every other sector, and at last, within few decades, this nation succeeded in gaining its lost prestige. This tale has great lesson for Pakistan.
