

Date: _____

Implications of climate change for children in developing countries.

Introduction

In the sweltering heat of climate change, the most vulnerable - bear the heaviest burden by children in developing countries. As rising temperatures becomes the new normal that is demanding urgent attention and action.

Date: _____

Outline

- 1- Vulnerabilities of children in developing countries
 - a- Increased health risks due to extreme weather events.
 - b- Limited access to clean water and sanitation
 - c- Impact on food security and malnutrition.
 - d- Economic challenges affecting education access.
- 2- How climate change affect children
 - a- Impact on children development and well-being
 - b- Displacement and disruptions in schooling.
 - c- Changes in food availability and quality
 - d- Mental health impacts due to climate related events.

Date: _____

e Economic hardships leading to exploitation of children.

3- Recommendations for Policy Enhancement:

a- Allocating resources for research on child-specific climate impacts.

b- Advocating for international co-operation to develop and implement child centric climate policies.

c- Ensuring the active participation of children in decision-making processes.