2- Objectives of foreign policies:

All the objectives of foreign policies are based on interest of nation:

- (i) Protection of national interest
- (ii) Fulfilment of national interest
- (iii) Enhancement of national interest

3- Foreign policy of Pakistan:

Foreign policy of Pakistan is based on the Islamic ideology, its rich cultural heritage and historical background, especially the intense struggle for freedom. As an Islamic and non-Islamic aligned country Pakistan supports, with all its hearts, the Islamic causes and upholds with will the principle of respect for independence, sovereignty and territorial integrity of the states.

4- Foreign Policy Challenges of Pakistan:

Foreign policy of Pakistan seems to have been facing grim challenges since the very existence of the country. Indeed the challenges posed in 21st century are more serious threat to the foreign policy and state of Pakistan:

i) Unsolvable Kashmir Dispute:

One of the major challenge to the foreign policy of Pakistan is Kashmir dispute which is solved not yet. The long standing conflict with India over Kashmir remains a central foreign policy challenge. Tensions between two nuclear-armed neighbours have implications for regional stability.

(ii) Afghanistan instability:

Pakistan's relationship with Afghanistan is crucial, particularly in the context of the U.S. troop withdrawal and Taliban's return to power. Pakistan aims to spill over effects such as refugee flows and militancy. Afghanistan is our neighbour country and it affects a lot. It is well said:

"You can change your friends, but you cannot change your neighbours."

(iii) Successful manifestation of CPEC:

Pakistan's ties with China especially through China Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC), bring economic opportunities but also place Pakistan in a complex position due to U.S.-China rivalry. U.S.-China rivalry effect this platform and Pakistan is among the frontline state.
