Introduction:

Democracy and dictatorship are diverging systems of government and both has merits and demerits. But its not means that worst democracy is better than best dictatorship. Only best form of government is that provide social justice, economic prosperity, political stability and social protection to common man. If it is not able to serve the will of common man that form of Government's destiny to perished from the globe. Either it is democracy or dictatorship. There are many examples that speak loudly dictatorship also serve the will of common man. At the time of Hazrat Umar bin Abdull Aziz no one was there for taking zakat. and Caliphate was answerable for common men. In addition to it, China that lead the world's economy has also dictatorship. Moreover Europe that is big fan of democracy, has not democracy in true sense. They have varied form of government, because its their purpose to serve the will of common men and country's growth. ~~Additionally~~ So, there is dire need to reject the notion which is inculcated in the mind of people through media that democracy is the only legitimate way of progress.
