Title: Unchecked Media And Its Disadvantages

Media is the main source of information for the people. However, it also becomes the cause of confusion and distress in society. With the emergence of social media platforms, informations became more abundant. Hence, it is difficult for the people to know about the credibility of information. As a result un-verified and mis-interpreted information prevails and causes confusion in the society. This abundance of information reduces the ability of people to analyse the validity of information. Similarly, media also showcases the matters in an over-simplified and un-realistic manner — through advertisements and news channels — that people feel distressed when did not come to expectations. Moreover, media is also damaging the social norms and values. This situation will prevail unless the media is regulated in a good way.
