

Q. 2

Explain the doctrine of Akhrot in Islam. Describe its impact on the life of an individual and society?

Introduction.

Human life is nothing but a trail on planet Earth. Every human has to taste death and after death this mortal body will vanish but the soul will be asked for its deeds on planet Earth.

This is a fundamental concept in Islam to believe in the day of judgement. And on the day of judgement everything will be clear.

(2) Judgement day is one of the fundamental doctrine of Islam.

Al-far - malkah

Used to make fun of these doctrines that who will take out their ancestors from graves even their bones have not left. To whom God replied in Quran

"The One who gave them life ~~can~~ will be resurrecting them day of judgement."

(2) The doctrine of trial and punishment.

A person who commits a thousand murders and another who spent all his life pious and in remembrance of God can never be equalized this would be a huge injustice.

Molana Modudi in his

book "Towards understanding Islam" beautifully explains
the concept of Akhirah
"The universe shows
nothing but order; the movement of planets, sunset
and rise, changing of seasons depict nothing but order. So, the one who gave us this body and a free will to decide will ask nothing about it is beyond human logic and reason"

(3) Concept of Jannah and hell sanctifies the trail.

Our life on planet Earth is nothing but a trail.

As per Hadith

"World is a poison for a momin (Pious muslim)"

Considering this a Muslim has to be extremely cautious
in this world to conduct his/her affairs on principles set forth
of Islam. because worldly affairs prompt us all to commit sin. Hence, to avoid such things. Akhirah
is the concept of wisdom
on the day of judgement
our deeds committed on this planet will decide our ultimate fate that on which destiny we will be heading towards. Whether he will be going to hell
or heaven.

A Impacts of this doctrine on Individual and social life.

(i) Sublimity.

A person who knows that after death he has to witness God and standing in front of him. He has to give the record of all his deeds and ultimately God will give his verdict. He undermines every worldly desires and becomes sublime.

(2) Undermining worldly desires.

Our desires and urges force us to commit sins. While the concept of al-hirah cements this fact in our hearts that if we will succumb to worldly desires only negatives will be there. on the day of judgement God will decide justly and our end will not be too good.

(3) Inner peace and satisfaction.

A man driven by desires and urges have to go through depression, anxiety and trauma. He commits everything in competition. A true believer of Akhirah is above all these things and he first and foremost thinks that what results he has to go through if he commits these sin. This makes him leave those things and he gets on the track of mental satisfaction.

(4) Enticing spirituality in a human

Ref: A God fearing man who believes in the concept of God and believes in Akhirah knows that his every act is nothing but toil and he has

to get involve in deeds
which promotes his positive stature.

Social impacts:

(i) Harmony in Society

A society where believe in Alkhairah is a harmonious society
As everyone is considering himself herself accountable on the day of judgement.

(ii) Basis of a Just Society.

Alkhairah
inculcates the idea of justice
as it is a its essence. If one will do justice here he/she will have justice in the afterwards life.

(iii) Redemption in crime.

Every soul who believes in Akhirat believes that committing crime here is a sin and the devil will get his/hers due in the end.

(iv) Source of homogeneity

All God-fearing people who believe in justice and say of justice and act accordingly are forming a homogenous society.

Conclusion.

The complete code of life i.e Islam gives us the chance to live an exemplary life where God fearing people sanctify their lives with originality and justice to live with an example here and ultimately reap the fruits in Akhirat.
